Global Navigation Bid

Attempt By U.S. To Put Satellite Into Orbit Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States failed today to put into orbit a satellite designed for experimenting with a global navigation system.

More than an hour after a three-stage launching vehicle lifted the satellite from Cape Canaveral the Defense Department in Washington announced that the third stage apparently had failed to work.

A brief announcement said: "Since confirming data has not been received it must be assumed that the satellite did not go into orbit."

The satellite, riding on a combination Thor-Able launcher, lifted cleanly off the pad at Canaveral at 9:34 a.m. The second stage rocket engine fired on schedule.

The Advanced Research and Projects Administration had said that the new navigation system if it worked would be more accurate than any systems now available.

The satellite was aimed at a nearly circular orbit 400 miles above the earth. If successful, it will be the first U.S. satellite visible to the naked eye.

Another Thor-Able rocket placed Explorer VI—the paddlewheel satellite—into orbit last month.

ARPA emphasized that Transit I itself would not be used as a navigational aid. It is merely a test of equipment and theories that may be put to use in future satellites. Some ships and planes will be used to evaluate Transit I, however.

The satellite was to be tracked by four ground stations in the United States, one in Canada and one in England.

Two radio transmitters in the satellite each send on two frequencies at one-minute intervals.

The signals change frequency as they approach and pass over a ground station because of a phenomenon known as the Doppler Shift. This shift is the key to the navigational system and is the main thing to be studied by Transit I.

By measuring the extent of the Doppler Shift, a ground station may be able to predict the orbital position of a satellite for several days ahead. With the location of the satellite known, a navigator could receive a signal from it at any time and accurately mark the position of a ship or plane in any weather.

A simple example of the Doppler Shift is the changing tone of a train whistle as it approaches a listener. More vibrations reach the ear per second as the locomotive comes closer. Radio emissions work much the same way.

President Reviews Situation

Meetings Have Been Friendly, Ike Says Of Khrushchev Visit

Herter Gives Plan To Ease World Strife

Major Policy Talk Before U.N. Aimed At Soviet Premier

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today laid down a broad program to end East-West tension through peaceful change in the political, military and economic fields.

Herter addressed the 82-nation General Assembly in a major policy speech obviously aimed at Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who will speak from the same rostrum Friday afternoon.

While denouncing the use of force by the Communists in Asia and other places, such as Hungary, Herter appealed for serious negotiation of disarmament, outer space cooperation, and on such outstanding political problems as Berlin and the reunification of divided Germany.

He blamed the noncooperation of the Soviet Union for the arms race of the past 10 years, but declared that the United States regards the forthcoming disarmament talks next year as "a major opportunity."

In an appeal which seemed to be directed straight to Khrushchev, he said: "There could be no more dramatic illustration of a spirit of cooperation in the world today as we stand on the threshold of the space age than for this assembly to act unanimously in this field. This would be a major step forward in the process of peaceful change."

This was Herter's first appearance before the Assembly since he succeeded John Foster Dulles as secretary of state earlier this year. He was mostly conciliatory in dealing with the Soviet Union, but he pulled no punches on the Chinese Communist and their activities in the Far East.

Herter flatly rejected the recent Soviet proposal for a new international conference on troubled Laos. This problem, he said, is being handled by the U.N. Security Council and its special fact-finding committee now in the little Southeast Asian kingdom.

Herter called Red China's intervention in Tibet a "revolting spectacle" and charged "brutal Chinese Communist repression of the fundamental human rights of the Tibetans."

Since the 1958 Assembly session, Communist China has suppressed an uprising in Tibet, got into a border dispute with India and been blamed along with the Soviet Union and North Viet Nam for a rebellion in Laos.

The Steering Committee voted Wednesday to shelve for a year the question of seating Red China in the United Nations.

Sees Honest Attempt For Agreements

Says It's Too Early To Tell If Premier Has Altered Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev have been extremely friendly, but it is too early to tell whether the Kremlin leader has changed his mind on any world issues.

The President told a news conference that Khrushchev's manner and deportment indicate he really is trying to reach agreement regarding international problems.

This was Eisenhower's first meeting with newsmen since his one hour and 45 minute formal conference with the Soviet chief Tuesday, and his talks with Khrushchev at social events.

The first question put to the President was whether he sees any concrete evidence, on the basis of the talks, that Khrushchev may have changed his position on international issues.

Eisenhower replied that it is still a little bit early to go into detail or come to any conclusions on that matter. He went on to say, however, that Khrushchev's general attitude has been extremely friendly.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev will meet again sept. 24-27 for another round of talks at the President's mountain retreat, Camp David, near Thurmont, Md.

In the meantime, Khrushchev will have made a cross country trip and seen something more of the United States and its people.

Eisenhower said his first conference with Khrushchev dealt with the matter of agenda for the Camp David conferences, and also brought a mutual restatement of general positions regarding the issues.

A bit later at today's conference, Eisenhower made it clear that such specific problems as West Berlin and the Communist drive in Laos certainly will be on the Camp David agenda.

As for the public reception Khrushchev received in Washington, Eisenhower remarked that the crowds did show what he termed reservation. He indicated he feels that was to be expected in view of the differences between the United States and Russia on specific problems and general government philosophy.

Eisenhower remarked that in his estimation very large crowds turned out to greet Khrushchev in the capital. He said that was natural because the people were interested in seeing Khrushchev.

Police estimated the turnout in the Washington area to see Khrushchev was around 200,000. This compared with an estimate of more than a million for Britain's Queen Elizabeth in 1957.

Beaver Grand Jury To Act On Neff Charges

Cases Submitted As Court Refuses Plea To Quash Complaint

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — Charges by and against former state senator Samuel G. Neff over alleged kickbacks from highway equipment owners were ready to be taken before a grand jury today.

Both Neff and Auditor Gen. Charles C. Smith and his chief deputy J. Alexander Jacobs found their appeals to quash charges turned down Wednesday by the Beaver County Court.

Smith and Jacobs had asked the court to quash criminal libel charges against them. Neff brought the charges after he was fired as manager of the state workmen's insurance fund last June.

Neff's dismissal followed a report by Smith that the former state senator and Democratic chairman in Beaver County took kickbacks from contractors leasing equipment to the State Highways Dept.

The court also turned down an appeal by Neff and four others to quash charges of extortion and conspiracy growing out of the alleged kickback scheme. The others are Robert Yoho, Leon Kaleta, James Macry and Edward Nitshe, all former employes of the State Highways Dept. in Beaver County.

City, Midland Men Named In Indictments

The Beaver County Grand Jury Wednesday returned two true bills against an East Liverpool man and one from Midland.

James C. Keys of East Liverpool is charged with operating a vehicle while intoxicated and Walter C. Tillman of Midland, neglect of support of a child.

Jailbreakers Plead Guilty To 6 Charges

City Girl, 17, Admits Bigamy Complaint And Gets Probation

Two Weirton men, who broke out of the Hancock County Jail Friday and were recaptured Saturday night in Moundsville, entered guilty pleas to a total of six charges when arraigned Wednesday before Circuit Court Judge J. H. Brennan in New Cumberland.

Robert Thomas Williams, 29, entered guilty pleas to indictments on felonious assault, auto theft, and one count of breaking and entering a Weirton business establishment.

The assault charge resulted from the jailbreak when the pair slugged Deputy Sheriff W. B. King Jr. with a piece of steel bar, inflicting a head wound.

Judge Brennan set Oct. 8 for sentencing Williams with Steiner scheduled to be sentenced the following day.

Duane Mercer, 23, of New Cumberland, Ronald Howell of East Liverpool and Donald R. Beck of Chester, indicted for helping in the break, pleaded innocent to charges of aiding and abetting the escape and attempted jailbreak.

Mercer also entered an innocent plea to one count of breaking and entering a boat of the Dravo Corp. at New Cumberland.

Mercer will go on trial Oct. 5 with Howell to be tried Oct. 6 and Beck on Oct. 7.

A 17 - year - old East Liverpool girl, Charlotte Edwina Gray Wright, was granted probation by Judge Brennan after pleading guilty to a bigamy charge. Prosecutor Frank Pietranton recommended the probation because the girl turned herself over to Weirton police, admitting she married a man in Lisbon several months ago and then later married a Weirton youth without bothering with a divorce.

Red Chinese Shuffle High Military Staff

Defense Minister Replaced; Other Changes Are Made

TOKYO (AP)—Red China shook up the high command of its armed forces today. Marshal Lin Piao, a deputy premier, replaced Marshal Peng Teh-huai as defense minister.

Radio Peiping announced this and other changes without explanation.

Peng has been prominent for years in consultations between Peiping and Moscow on military affairs. Last May he flew to Albania for talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his defense minister, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky.

Peng and Lin both figured in the Korean War. Lin, 52, commanded Communist Chinese detachments at the outbreak of that war. Peng replaced him as commander in October 1950. Lin is considered the leading military strategist of Red China.

Another change brought Deputy Premier Gen. Lo Jui-ching from his post of public security minister to become chief of the army's general staff. He succeeds Gen. Huang Ko-cheng.

New York Next Stop

Red Boss To Offer New Disarm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev set out for New York today with an expression of hope that the sun will always shine "on our relations and our two countries."

He also gave a promise of new disarmament proposals. He gave the move a big buildup with an extraordinary two - day Washington performance.

Bright and early, the energetic Soviet chieftain left the President's guest house and was driven to Union Station to board his special 15-car train. It pulled out at 8:21 a.m. and was due in New York at 12:05 p.m.

The visiting Communist leader stated his hope in a brief informal departure speech at the station.

The world Communist leader announced in his major Washington speech that the Soviet Union intends to make new disarmament proposals before the United Nations, where he speaks Friday.

He may have something spectacular to submit. But whether his address is a surprise or not, the consensus here is that his performance on the first leg of his historic visit to the United States already has added up to significant propaganda for Moscow.

He himself has conceded that thus far he has offered no new proposals. He has suggested that the main antagonists in the cold war, if they want to avoid turning this earth into "ashes and graves," must find ways of composing their differences on the future use of nuclear power and rocket science.

At the same time he has promised he will present something in the way of disarmament proposals at the United Nations.

In Washington, Khrushchev asked for more "give" on both sides to avoid the grim prospect of a new world war. There was nothing new in this statement. But there was something for Americans to ponder in the way he handled himself in Washington, and in his deft handling of the sharpest interrogation Washington had to offer.

His performance was regarded by many observers as a valuable service to world Communist propaganda.

Moscow's 65-year-old iron man subjected himself to a grueling schedule and showed himself no worse for wear. He submitted himself to open, public interrogation. He responded to questions with the dexterity of a practiced politician.

Many who attended the luncheon session Wednesday at which Khrushchev addressed the National Press Club, the Women's National Press Club and the Overseas Writers obviously were hostile to Khrushchev's views. But the Soviet leader melted the ice to the extent that he had his audience laughing and applauding.

From the luncheon, Khrushchev proceeded to a meeting with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. His assessment: it was a "very good and useful talk," of the sort which should be multiplied in the interests of exploring each "opportunity for peace."

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called the senators' session with Khrushchev a "very successful one" which gave the senators an opportunity to gauge the ability, performance and capability of the Communist leader.

Ike Proposes New Plan In Steel Walkout

Offers To Select Nongovernmental Board Of Review

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a major move aimed at ending the nation's steel strike, has offered to designate a nongovernmental board of review to recommend settlement terms.

The offer was swiftly accepted by Steelworkers President David J. McDonald in a telegram dispatched Wednesday to the White House.

But industry leaders made no move to accept.

Eisenhower emphasized that his offer was contingent on acceptance by both industry and union officials.

A statement issued by R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry spokesman, said: "The companies have not asked for any form of government intervention and will not request appointment of a fact-finding board."

The industry often has stated its opposition to government intervention of any kind in the strike, now 65 days old. Cooper's statement said the companies were asking "only for sensible two-way bargaining by the union."

In his offer, the President carefully drew the distinction that the nongovernmental group would have power only to review the issues and to recommend a settlement.

Eisenhower simultaneously re-

Power Failure Lasts Hour In Hancock Area

Mystery still surrounds the cause of a collapse of three sections of heavy power lines in North Weirton, knocking electric power out in northern Hancock County for over an hour this morning, officials of the Monongahela Power Co. reported.

Three 200-foot sections of a 25,000-volt line to Chester fell at 8:10 a. m. at the Kings Creek Bow north of Weirton, leaving some 6,000 homes and business in Chester, Newell, Pughtown and rural areas without electricity.

Electricity was restored in some places by 9 a. m. according to George Bilderbeck, district manager at Weirton, but later elsewhere. Power came back to Chester at 9:35.

Bilderbeck said utility crews have not been able to determine what caused the lines to fall, but were certain it was not due to the cold weather.

Allows Ballot-Punching Device

New Voting Machine Law Will Take Effect Sept. 28

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A new law allowing use of ballot-punching voting machines in Ohio elections goes on the books Sept. 28.

But approval of a three-member commission is required before the novel devices invented by Martin Coyle, Hamilton attorney, become legal.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Ohio's chief elections official, will name the commission, which must act within 30 days after the new law takes effect.

Coyle said the machines were about ready for mass production but probably would not get into use until next year.

He described them as about one-third the size of conventional lever-operated voting machines and said they would cost 60 per cent less. Recent purchases of lever-type machines exceeded $1,800 apiece.

Ballots printed on cards are locked into the machine and voters punch their choices. Punched ballots then are counted in tabulating machines.

A magnifying glass and lights in the machine make voting easy, Coyle explained. He said all possible safeguards have been incorporated into the devices and that

During Meeting In Lisbon

Preliminary Plans Are Set On County Home Proposal

A campaign to inform the residents of Columbiana County of squalid conditions at the County Home near Lisbon and to promote the passage of a $989,000 bond issue for a new home was launched at a meeting of the county Mental Health Association, county officials and newspapermen Wednesday at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin, County Commissioner Max Gard and County Auditor Kenneth Bell outlined the needs, plans and financing of a new home and Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, described tentative arrangements for the structure.

About 25 attended the session at which the bond issue, which will be on the Nov. 3 ballot, was discussed. Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville, president of the mental health group, was in charge.

GARD explained the recent action by the commissioners to seek a bond issue for a new county structure stemmed from an order by a state inspector that the plumbing system at the present home would have to be repaired to meet state standards.

He said a rough estimate of the work indicated it would cost some $35,000 and it was decided — at the suggestion of Commissioner Frank Wilson of Wellsville — to

How To Get Best Education

Education Experts Offer 'Good School' Scorecard

This is the ninth of 15 articles, condensed from the book, "How To Get the Best Education for Your Child," written by the former education editor of the New York Times and his wife, an educator herself.

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE AND LILLIAN FINE

When our fourth child was born we realized that a four-and-one-half-room apartment in the city would no longer be sufficient.

Then began a year-long hunt for a proper home. The public school situation loomed ominously important. We wanted schools that had friendly, cheerful teachers. We wanted a school system that could treat our children as individuals. We wanted a school system that paid its teachers enough to keep them happy and one that had an up-to-date curriculum and decent equipment for the children.

We sat in one third-grade classroom. "Stop wiggling," the teacher admonished her 9-year-olds. We left the class with a shudder of relief that we hadn't bought a house in that area.

Finally, we found the four-bedroom house we wanted. We didn't find the school system quite to our liking. But we found enough public-minded people who joined us in helping to improve it.

In our search for a good school system, we compiled a check list that we found helpful in measuring the efficiency of an educational program.

Teachers

What is the average size of classes in our schools? How do we compare with neighboring schools on this and the other points?

What are the maximum and minimum salaries for teachers?

How many teachers have masters or doctoral degrees?

How many teachers are teaching on emergency certificates?

How many have had the experience of teaching in other systems?

How many have taught less than three years or more than 35 years?

How many have taught in this community less than three years?

How many have traveled in other countries, held positions in business, or speak a foreign language?

Do they show evidence of wide cultural interests? How many take part in professional organizations?

Are our teachers well groomed? Do they speak clearly and use good English?

Do they inspire most youngsters with hope and ambition?

Do we give recognition to outstanding teachers?

Community

Is the community proud of its schools?

Is adequate housing at reasonable cost available for teachers?

Does the community impose special restrictions on teachers or discriminate against married teachers?

Do teachers feel free to express opinions about community issues?

What is the attitude of the local press toward the schools?

Are board of education meetings open to the public?

Do civic organizations take a helpful interest in the schools?

Is there evidence of unethical practices in purchases of school supplies and school construction?

Children

Do they show respect for the teacher and one another?

Do they require a great deal of supervision?

Do they treat school property with consideration?

Are they physically active? Does the school arrange regular, thorough physical examinations?

Curriculum

Is the program cooperatively planned by all the teachers?

Is the subject matter adapted to the needs of the children?

In elementary grades, do periods of hard mental concentration alternate whenever possible with physical activity or a relaxing activity such as singing?

Do bright children have an opportunity to learn a foreign language?

To what extent is the curriculum enriched by audio-visual aids?

Are concerts, lectures, and class visits to museums, etc., arranged?

Are there remedial reading groups?

Do the teachers give attention all through the schools to basic skills?

Do our schools offer sound challenging courses in science and mathematics?

Buildings

When were the school buildings built? Are they overcrowded?

Are they safe from fire?

Is there good lighting, ventilation and heating?

Are there enough lavatories? Are they supervised?

Is there a auditorium?

Is there a clean, attractive place for children to eat lunch?

Is there enough well-equipped playground space?

Does each school have a television set, radios, moving picture projector?

Is there a room where teachers can relax or correct papers, or make plans?

Miscellaneous

Does each school have a pleasant atmosphere?

Is the superintendent well regarded?

Are the principals dictatorial?

Does student government really function?

Is there a testing program to determine abilities, aptitudes, and achievements of all students?

What per cent of the graduating class goes to college?

Are the textbooks modern and attractive? Are supplementary books and teaching aids used?

Does the school offer many extracurricular activities?

What is the amount of tax money spent per pupil compared with other communities?

Regardless of everything else, if you do not have good warm, happy, stable, conscientious teachers, you will not have a successful school system.

NEXT: Is your child gifted?

New Twist In Red Propaganda

One sidelight of the Khruschev visit to the United States that is both interesting and alarming concerns the reports the Russian people are getting of their leader's jaunt.

The Kremlin propagandists appear to be turning to more subtle methods than they have used before.

It was pleasing to hear that on the day Mr. Khrushchev flew to Washington the Soviets stopped jamming Voice of America broadcasts for the first time in 10 years. The Voice descriptions of the Red leader's arrival were getting through loud and clear.

But any hopes for objective accounts behind the Iron Curtain were soon dashed by reports that the Communist press and radio were crediting the premier with a far warmer reception from the mass of American people than he actually got.

The fact that the Communist bosses allowed two divergent accounts to reach their people seems puzzling at first glance. But deeper analysis reveals the possibility of a cunning strategy designed to use the Voice of America broadcasts as well as government-controlled media for their propaganda purposes.

The Voice reports are something new to the Russians. Considering their carefully nurtured suspicion of anything American, it would be reasonable to assume that, faced with differing accounts of the same event, they would tend to accept the news sources with which they are most familiar.

If that were the case, it is easy to see that their conclusion would be that the United States, through its official voice, was trying to create the impression that Americans are cool to the Communist leader whereas actually the people of America are greeting him with open arms.

This interpretation, in turn, could serve to confirm the old Red propaganda line that the "enslaved" American people really want peace but Wall Street's warmongers don't let them have it.

That anyone could fall for such malarkey may seem far-fetched to Americans, who are accustomed to the privilege of making up their own minds about what they cull from their free press.

But the ordinary man-in-the-street Russian has been well trained to avoid thinking for himself. If he is puzzled, he will follow the human instinct to rely upon the familiar.

His Communist bosses know that. That is probably why they are willing to take a "chance" on letting the Voice of America come through.

And it must be admitted that the two-account propaganda strategy on the Khrushchev journey is exceedingly shrewd.

Congress Closes Up Shop

Whatever else it may have done or failed to do, the first session of the 86th Congress gave professors of political science some good teaching material.

Its place in history's record books has not been decided, but teachers will be able to use it for years as a fine example of what the founding fathers had in mind when they set up the American system of checks and balances. The session can be summed up best as a broad compromise wrought by the political balance of power between the Republican executive branch and the Democratic legislative branch.

The surprising thing about this retrospective conclusion is that no one could predict it when the session got under way last January. The Democrats held the tightest grip on Capitol Hill they had enjoyed since the early years of the Franklin D. Roosevelt regime. The White House was in the hands of a "lame duck" President supposedly sapped of his previous vigor by age and a series of serious illnesses.

But the Democrats' grip proved to be weaker than anticipated and the Republican President proved to be more limber than lame. The result proved to be a session characterized by long hours, hard work and middle-of-the-road legislation along with the usual sound and fury.

There were a couple of noteworthy accomplishments for which President Eisenhower, displaying a new surge of the famed vitality that helped first elect him in 1952, could command the most credit.

One of these was the labor reform law aimed at clipping the wings of Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoff and any other union leader who got too big for the country's britches. When it looked as though the issue was a dead duck, the President stepped in, marshaled public opinion by direct appeal and applied the pressure that produced a bill stronger than had ever been hoped for.

The second achievement was the general campaign to cut down on federal spending. The Democratic leadership, particularly in the Senate, started out blasting the administration for its penny-pinching ways. But the voice of the tired taxpayers began to be heard part-way through the session, and soon the Democrats themselves were joining in the cutting bit.

Combining public opinion with his influential veto, the President helped the process along. His major defeat on that score was the rejection of his veto of the "pork barrel" bill, but that was a moral victory for the measure was a trimmed-down, second-try version of the original.

The proof of the session's pudding can be seen in the politicians' summing up. Nobody is completely happy but nobody is entirely dissatisfied ether. Both sides can take a little credit and a little blame.

That is the sign of compromise, the essence of our founding fathers' democracy.

Constitution Week Coincidence

The President of the United States was formally welcoming the premier of Soviet Russia to Washington, but his words could as easily have been spoken in commemoration of Constitution Week.

"The political and social systems of our two countries differ greatly," he said. "In our system the people themselves establish and control the government. . . . It is clear that because our people do want peace and because they are the decisive influence in basic actions of our government, aggression by this nation is an impossibility."

Although it is concidence, there could hardly be a more opportune time for the Russian leader's visit to America than during the period we set aside each year to pay special tribute to the political instrument that has made our nation great.

Mr. Khrushchev and his associates are fond of referring to those countries which have fallen under their domination as "people's democracies." The term is derived from another favorite Marxist slogan, "the dictatorship of the proletariat."

To the Communist dialectician these euphemisms may sound reasonable, but anybody who has his thinking cap on straight can discern the difference between a democracy that is created by the people it serves and a so-called democracy that is handed down to the people already packaged according to the specifications of the few who plan to run it.

And just about any school child could see that real democracy cannot be discussed in terms of dictatorships — of the proletariat or anything else. In a democracy, nobody does any permanent dictating. Even the minority of the moment has a voice in what goes on.

The Soviet leader's presence in the United States during Constitution Week should serve to remind all Americans of these truths. The Constitution that was signed by its drafters 172 years ago today remains a powerful document because the people it serves have constantly reminded themselves of the ideals it represents.

The Once Over

KHRUSCHEV'S VISIT PLAY BY PLAY

First Day: Arrived direct from launching pad in photo finish with moon rocket. Escorted to White House with service bands trying to act sincere while playing "Shine on Harvest Moon," "That's How I Need You," and "If I'd Known You Were Coming I'd Have Baked a Capsule."

Ike admitted that any man who could make a hole-in-one on the moon was a wonder. Ike asked, "What club did you sue?" Khrushchev insisted it was a niblick.

Second Day: Press Club TV show with Nikita complaining he understood program was to be "Whom Do You Trust?"

Khrushchev is annoyed when told one of his jokes was previously used at the Plaza. He gets mixed up on his speech agenda, proposes a toast to Roswell Garst and thanks club for inviting him to inspect corn crop.

Fourth Day: To great industrial center of Hyde Park to catch Eleanor Roosevelt on one of the few days she is home. Back to New York for speech at U.N. He is still a little confused and calls for standing salute to Ezra Benson's Beltsville all-white-meat turkey. Gov. Rockefeller visits him at Waldorf at 3 p.m.

Fifth Day: To Los Angeles, Frisco and Hollywood for study of underprivileged movie stars, starving Americans, destitute performers in "Can Can" and underpriviliged Giants and Dodgers. Visits Disneyland and as substitute for Hoover Dam. Threatens trouble if Aristotle Onassis and Maria Callas continue to rival him in headlines.

Sixth Day: Visit to Iowa corn farm (suspenders and black tie). Asks why cornstalks are not grown upside down. Says Soviets will producer bigger corncobs and may even get butter supply up to the point where it can be spread on cob. Declares corn borer can be killed by veto.

Seventh Day: Pittsburgh for first real display of interest in workers. Take it from there.

Labor Eyes Control Of Party

By Victor Riesel

SAN FRANCISCO

There's another "Walter Reuther-for-President Club." It has a Manhattan Post Office box. It's pouring out leaflets in a hard-sell, buck - a - button campaign. In New York's massive Labor Day Parade, its campaign literature shouted "Win The Democratic Nomination For Reuther in 1960."

Victor Riesel

This is guaranteed to skyrocket Reuther's blood pressure and make his face as red as his hair. Always he painfully takes pains to disclaim publicly any tie to such championing of his name.

But this time neither he nor the other leaders of the nation's unions gathered on the hillsides for the AFL-CIO Third Constitutional Convention can disclaim one sentiment written into the handbills — the traditional mimeographed voice of the placard carriers. That is the angry threat — very apparent here —to move deeper into the Democratic party and influence its nominations all the way down the line.

IT IS APPARENT, and it is written into the basic documents of this convention, that labor wants to smash the control of the Democratic party by its traditional inner machine leaders.

It is bluntly urged by the AFL-CIO's high council that labor's own political organization crack the power of the Lyndon Johnson - Sam Rayburn section of the party.

It is bluntly recommended to the 800 most influential American labor chiefs that they adopt a report telling their Southern phalanxes to fight the old Democrats below the Mason-Dixon line.

The leadership of American labor is saying to its people — go into the Democratic primaries throughout the South and fight to nominate pro-labor candidates.

It is believed there are 50 hard-core Southern Democrats in the House of Representatives. The convention is told that they are the challenge. Candidates must be found to oppose them and drive them from Congress.

"Politically the Southern states constitute a challenge and an opportunity to the American labor movement," the AFL-CIO Executive Council reported to the delegates.

"Because of their particular role in American political history, it is a challenge that must be met before meaningful progress can be made toward the election of a liberal Congress.

"It is an area with less than 24 per cent of the nation's population in which fewer than 30 per cent of the population habitually vote. Yet it is an area whose representatives dominate the national Congress by virtue of control of vital chairmanships and the processes of both major political parties. . . .

"Industrialization is proceeding at a rapid rate and new political patterns are emerging.

"The problem is one of providing the people of the South with representation to supplant the representation which has thus far been granted only to the favored few."

THEN THE OFFICERS say that labor "intends to do its part in meeting this challenge to the nation. It intends to participate even more fully than before in the primaries of 1960. . . ."

Among the Southern delegates at the convention, and in general political discussions there is constant talk of the need to find candidates to buck the traditional Democrats.

The search is on. This means a campaign to fight for delegates to the Democratic National Convention as well as to buck the old-line regular Democratic forces which pushed through the Landrum-Griffin bill.

If successful, the labor leaders will have an all-powerful bloc at the 1960 Democratic National Convention.

The union politicos, generally with Walter Reuther and the Railway Clark's urbane George Harrison in the lead, always have a bloc of some 250 delegates at that nominating parley.

ADD TO THAT the Northern Democrats from such states as New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois, for example and a possible newly won Southern bloc and you have a balance of power pro-labor contingent which could do more than merely veto a presidential nominee. It could name one. It won't, of course, be a labor leader.

But it will be the contender who is closest to the labor leaders. Note that the only political speaker at the convention is Jim Mitchell — and that's because he is secretary of labor of ths United States. No Democratic senator or other possible candidate was invited to speak, lest it be interpreted as endorsement. This is the last convention before 1960 presidential election.

The nation's most powerful labor force just isn't permitting any Democrat to take it for granted —and that goes for the Democratic party itself.

From now on labor is going to bargain tougher politically than it ever did on the strike front. In fact, you might call this a political strike.

A Big Leaguer

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The boxscore on Premier Nikita Khrushchev — after his two - day whirl-around in the capital—comes down to this: no hits, no runs, no errors. But he's a big leaguer, just the same.

He was no hit with the thousands who stood mute as he whizzed by. There have been no apparent gains from his visit so far, since he has promised nothing and conceded nothing. But he didn't commit any bobbles either.

He had plenty of chance to make a fool of himself or anger Americans in his public appearances and statements. He did neither. He just sounded like a carbon copy of letters he had written President Eisenhower in the past. He repeated himself.

Khrushchev has a bit of a ham in him—mugging in front of the camera, stealing scenes from Eisenhower, pumping hands, slapping backs, being a jolly good fellow—but anyone watching could well have wondered: Was this round little man with the bald head and the peasant's face, bouncing around town tirelessly, the last chance this country might have for a long, long time to melt the cold war?

He's 65. He may not last much longer. He's a Communist, and a tough one, but, compared with Stalin, he's been a breath of fresh air in the Soviet Union, a liberalizing force.

If this country cannot work out some settlements with him, then with whom? His successor may be more of a Stalinist and try not only to turn the clock back in the Soviet Union but to make the cold war more frigid than it is now.

In his public statements—those repetitions of what he had long said before coming here—Khrushchev didn't bend an inch on the Berlin dilemma he himself created or on anything else.

The most he has done so far—toward trying to reach some agreements—is to indicate that he may make some new proposals on disarmament before the U. N. Friday. Maybe there will be some changes when he talks with Eisenhower next week.

This, like practically everything else that has been said about his visit, is plain guessing since no one so far has attempted to state as a fact the reason for his coming here in the first place.

But Khrushchev in his televised appearance before the National Press Club showed he is not only mentally fast but has such good self-control that he can flame into anger one instant and turn cool the next.

He was also fast enough to duck the Press Club questions he didn't want to answer, and, according to some senators with whom he had tea later, he nimbly skipped around the questions put to him by them too when it suited him.

There have been more suave heads of government than Khrushchev but he, like other Bolsheviks before him, wastes no time on fancy-Dan stuff. He's plain Joe, down to earth.

He didn't let himself get photographed in a full dress suit or even a tuxedo, which to poor people is a mark of the well-to-do. He went to Eisenhower's white-tie dinner in his regular street clothes.

Nothing tangible at all may come of this visit. But Khrushchev—by his dress, his manner, his bluntness, and his firmness in the capital of capitalism—has undoubtedly already done himself immeasurable good with the people back home and perhaps millions of poor people elsewhere too.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Harry R. Dustman was named a member of the Wellsville Police force.

Mrs. Frank Saltsman was elected president of the Wellsville WCTU.

More than 2,000 attended the opening of the two - day Dahlia Show at the Trotter Chevrolet Co. on Market St.

S. N. Krotzen was installed as commander and Mrs. Krotzen as auxiliary president of Wellsville American Legion Post 70.

Mrs. Earl Spahr was retained as president of the Daisy Circle Class of the Orchard Grove Ave. Methodist Episcopal Church.

Miss Caroline C. Verzella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Verzella of Midland, was graduated from St. John's General Hospital School of Nursing at Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Daisy Warrick was elected queen for Tri-State Sisterhood 199, Dames of Malta.

Dignified-But Distant

By David Lawrence

Khrushchev Given Restrained Reception

The moon is far away. So seemed the hearts of the people as they watched Soviet Premier Khrushchev when his car moved slowly through the streets of the national capital. It was a dignified reception — as solemn as a funeral procession.

David Lawrence

One couldn't help feeling sad and sorry and wondering why such visit wasn't postponed until conditions were ripe for it.

Khrushchev himself appeared friendly and somewhat bewildered. He knew the crowds were restrained. He must have felt the silence of the 200,000 who lined the thoroughfares.

There were some spectators, of course, who look upon the Soviet leader as a criminal and there were others no doubt who know little of his background but regard him as a symbol of Communism — indeed, as a hostile symbol.

It is difficult to show friendliness to a potential enemy. There has been nothing in recent months to indicate that the Soviet ruler will do anything constructive to advance the cause of peace — he was treated, therefore, with natural suspicion and distrust.

The entrance of Nikita Khrushchev to Washington, with all the fanfare and ceremony that is officially bestowed on a head of state, made an impressive picture.

KINGS AND QUEENS and foreign dignitaries have passed along the streets of Washington before and the people here are not as demonstrative as in other cities.

They do express themselves. But this time there was a strange mood of quiet acquiescence — a staring at the headline maker whose threats and boasts have been given front-page play in the press in recent years. Even President Eisenhower seemed grave and perhaps worried.

Maybe the Soviet Premier will be unable even to interpret the curious reception he got. It was not artificially contrived. It was the spontaneous expression of people who feared that the man they were watching might someday push a button and start a world war.

Normally, when a head of state comes to Washington, the people here feel that, in honoring him or her, the tribute is also for the people of the foreign country who have sent their representative on a mission of friendship and good will.

Many Washington people must have wished there were on this occasion some way to show the friendship felt to America for the people of the Soviet Union.

Mr. Khrushchev, or course, in his opening address at the airport, spoke about the friendship and goodwill he brought and managed to introduce a gibe about the Soviet achievement in hitting the moon.

Unfortunately for him, the same words are not as meaningful as when they come from a foreign visitor who is trusted and whose government has repeatedly manifested its friendship for the American people.

There have been times in the last 26 years since the United States extended formal recognition to the Soviet government when there might have been applause and outbursts of enthusiasm if the head of that government had visited Washington.

SUCH A VISIT, for instance, during World War II might have been the occasion for cheers for an ally —for the people of Soviet Russia who were making supreme sacrifices for our common cause.

But since 1945 the Soviets have steadily forfeited the respect of the American people. Even Mr. Khrushchev, in public speeches in 1956, had to denounce what happened during the Stalin regime, though everybody knows he himself played an influential part in some of the same acts of the Stalin government.

To attempt to present to the American people today the head of a government which for the last 14 years has broken pledges, dishonored its written agreements and carried on acts of aggression and brutality in many countries of the world, is to ask that crime be ignored and applause be given to the man who is responsible for the continuance of the same kind of policies and programs in the Soviet Union today.

Nikita Khrushchev's mind dwells in a world of his own making — as far away from American ideals and the spirit of freedom as the distance to the moon. Only a miracle could transform him into a different being.

There are those who hope for such a miracle. The next 11 days could convey to the Soviet Premier some idea of what was really back of the coolness in the courteous reception he received on Tuesday.

If he begins to ponder what makes whole peoples distrustful, he will at least have made a start toward that better understanding which he claims to seek in the relations between the government of the Soviet Union and the American people.

Invitation To Disaster

By Raymond Moley

DALLAS, Texas

The "new" Eisenhower who has resolutely taken matters into his own hands was not created by the absence of Sherman Adams or his approach to the end of his terms as President.

He has within these past six months been moving under the threat of a real financial disaster to the country. And no one is more responsible for bringing him to this realization, after six years of pretty expensive policies, than his Texas secretary of the treasury, Robert Anderson.

His vetoes of spending bills are secondary to his battle with Congress to take the ceiling from the interest rate on government bonds. For this is the very heart of a financial storm that is bearing down upon us by the day.

No one has so clearly made this plain to him and to Congress as has the treasury secretary, who is a man who knows what he is about and who has the capacity to explain financial affairs in terms that everyone can understand.

IN JUNE the President sent an urgent message to Congress saying that the credit of the government required that the legal ceiling on the interest rates of the 4½ per cent long - term marketable bonds and the 3.26 per cent limit on savings bonds should be removed, with discretion in the administration to fix these according to the conditions prevailing in the market for money.

Two days later Secretary Anderson presented to the House Ways and Means Committee one of the finest and most reasonably clear statements on financial policy that has appeared in recent years.

For two critical months Congress, busy with politics and little raids on the Treasury ignored this advice. Things were getting worse, and on Aug. 12 the House Ways and Means Committee tentatively approved the principles presented in bills by Rep. Simpson (R-Pa) and Harrison (D-Va.).

These bills would have met the President's recommendations.

A week later the Committee changed its mind and decided to do nothing. On that same day, the secretary sharply warned the committee of its dangerous delay, saying:

"A nation cannot afford to sit idly by at a time of rising levels of business activity and allow a situation to continue in which both the fact and the fear of inflation can be generated. We have tried to make clear that under present restrictions the government in the management of the debt can actively contribute to the inflationary pressures by being confined to short-term financing, which the shorter it gets is more like money."

He might have said "printing money," for that is what it amounts to.

THE PRESIDENT followed with a more urgent message, saying that "no issue of greater importance has come before this session of Congress." He again urged action on his earlier recommendation.

The committee labored for a few days and brought forth a mouse of a bill which a minority of the members condemned in a very strong report.

It removed the ceiling on the savings bonds, which are only one seventh of the national debt but did nothing about other long-term securities.

The critical days ahead may well compel the President to call Congress into special session. Perhaps such a spectacular move will be the only means of bringing public attention to the most serious problem before us all.

Interest rates on government securities are not just a technical question of concern only to banks, life insurance companies and the government. It is a very grave threat to all of us.

There is no "off - season" in newspaper reading. An analysis of daily newspaper circulation over a three - year period shows no month varied more than 4 per cent from the peak month. The newspaper habit is constant throughout the year.

OBSERVANCE OPENS. Mayor Fred P. Lawrence is shown presenting Mrs. Donald L. Thompson a proclamation for the observance of Constitution Week today through Wednesday. He urged residents to pay special attention to the Constitution, which was adopted 172 years ago by the Constitutional Convention. He pointed out it preserves the advantages of American citizenship. Mrs. Thompson is regent of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, sponsors of the observance.

Apple Picker Hurt In Fall

A New Cumberland area woman, hurt in a fall while picking apples, was admitted Wednesday to City Hospital where six other adults and youngsters were treated after separate mishaps yesterday.

Mrs. Bertie Hawkins of New Cumberland R. D. 2 is in "fairly good" condition today with a fractured right leg received in a fall from a tree on a Chester area farm.

Mrs. Elsie Davis of Salineville R. D. 2 was treated for a fracture of the left leg received in a fall in a yard.

Joseph Armstrong, 68, of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. suffered a head injury when cellar steps gave way at his home yesterday afternoon.

Tommy Moore, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moore of Westfield, suffered wounds of the upper lip, nose and near the left eye when bitten by a dog.

In a fall on the edge of concrete steps Shirley Smith, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Bloomfield, received a cut of the chin.

Mrs. Gertrude Searcy, 21, of 432 Midland Ave., Midland, was treated for a laceration of the left leg when struck by a car door.

Lawrenceville Home Is Damaged By Blaze

The livingroom and roof of a Lawrenceville home were damaged in a blaze caused by an overheated coal stove Wednesday afternoon about 4:45.

Lawrenceville firemen estimated damage at $600 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmit Brewer.

Fire Chief Randall Roach said the stove in the living-room became overheated and ignited nearby walls, the fire also spreading to the rafters.

Damage, resulting largely from smoke and water, was confined to the living-room, but firemen had to cut a hole in the roof to quell the attic blaze.

Brewer, whose wife discovered the flames, said the loss was not insured. Randall reported 12 men responded to the alarm.

Khrushchev, Foreign Relations Group Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — History will decide whether capitalism or communism is best for the people, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday.

What if capitalism wins out?

That's impossible, he said, but added he would have to go along if it did.

Cumberland Wins Priority

NEW CUMBERLAND — This community's $79,050 requests for federal aid towards construction of a sewage disposal plant is among nine in the state given top priority by the West Virginia Water Resources Commission at Charleston.

The priority assignments actually went to about a dozen applicants, but the top nine will call for grants generally within the $871,450 federal aid allocation expected to be available to West Virginia this year.

The top requests will be sent to the U. S. Public Health Service for further processing.

The aid is available to qualifying communities as outright grants in amounts not to exceed 30 per cent of a total project cost or $250,000, whichever is less.

Hundreds Drowned

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Flood waters today poured into the city of Surat, 160 miles north of Bombay. First reports said hundreds of persons drowned. An ancient wall protecting the city collapsed and waters of the River Tapti swirled into the main bazaar, it was reported.

One of the strangest of the Mound Builders works is to be found at Chillicothe, Ohio. Called Mound City, it is composed of 25 conical mounds on a 60-acre tract.

Work Of Chester Ministers Discussed For Kiwanis Club

The activities of the Chester Ministerial Association in serving the community were discussed by the Rev. Robert Backstrom at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Rev. Backstrom of the First United Presbyterian Church said the purpose of the association is to bring about more unity of the people in the town.

Among the projects sponsored by the group are a Christmas candlelight service, Good Friday and Union Thanksgiving services and the high school baccalaureate.

The association also supports an extensive relief program for needy persons, Rev. Backstrom said, pointing out $283 was spent from December 1958 to May. The purchase of coal, food, clothing and other items is from local businessmen, he added.

The money for the relief program is received from donations. "We are glad to serve the community," he said in conclusion.

C. O. Comm was named by R. M. McFarland, president, head a committee for election of officers Oct. 13. The committee includes Harvey Werkheiser, Eugene Seeley, Dr. R. D. Watkins and Atty. James Jordan.

A fire protection program will be held at the meeting next Tuesday, Alvin (Pete) Arner, program chairman, said.

89 Attend Family Event At Clarkson

About 89 attended the 49th annual reunion of the Huston-Baxter families Sunday at the Clarkson Grange Hall.

Officers named were John Craig, president; Ralph McMillan, vice president, and Mrs. Carol Mellington, secretary-treasurer. The table committee included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lipp, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hole, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hole and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hole.

Twelve who had attended the first reunion included Jim Huston, Bertha George, Everett Huston, Ina Huston, Jennie Toland, Wilbur Toland, Nana Huston, Ed Thomas, Mildred Hole, Elsie Temple, Ellen Smith and Mae Dunn of Warren, who has never missed any of the reunions.

The next one will be Sept. 11, 1960, at the Grange Hall.

Red Rocket Launches Chester Moon Watch

Although some hoped to see the target site of the Soviet rocket which hit the moon Sunday afternoon, Miss Hrnek explained the location was not visible. She said when the United States launches a similar moon rocket, it is planned to scatter a colored powder so that the site will be visible even to smaller telescopes.

The next business meeting will be held Oct. 13 in Miss Boston's Insurance Agency office.

Lisbon Trucker Hurt When Vehicle Upsets

LISBON — A pick-up truck driver received minor injuries when his vehicle left the road, hit an embankment and rolled over four times on the Lisbon-Franklin Square Rd. Tuesday night about 8.

The State Highway Patrol said Jack Adams, 29, of 322 N. Market St. suffered bruises of the head and shoulder when the truck wrecked north of Lisbon.

Adams, traveling too fast for road conditions, swerved to avoid another vehicle ahead when it slowed, and the truck careened from the roadway, officers reported. It was demolished.

Lon Bruner, 22, also of N. Market St., a passenger was unhurt, according to the patrol, which cited Adams for reckless operation.

Council Told Of Fund Drive To Fix Road

A petition for voluntary contributions from Lawrenceville residents to help pay for repairs of the Lawrenceville Rd. inside the Chester city limits is to be circulated shortly.

The plan was reported at a meeting of Chester Council Wednesday night when the summer street improvement program was discussed.

Councilman Charles Kology, chairman of the street committee, said any contributions from the area would be appreciated. The road is the main link between Lawrenceville and Chester.

City Solicitor William Conklin is to prepare the petition forms.

Kology said city streets are being patched in preparation for the blacktopping and re-sealing work slated by the River Asphalt Co. of Newell. He said assessments of city property owners are being paid.

Discussion was held on the need for replacing a railroad crossing sign at 5th St., along with the hazard of another crossing at 9th St. Clerk Roy Cashdollar was instructed to ask the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for installation of warning blinker lights at the two crossings, along with widening of the 5th St. crossing.

Harold Dickey, chairman of the Park Commission, reported work is due to start Monday on construction of a 300-foot-long sidewalk along 5th St. from the railroad crossing to the ticket booth at the City Park athletic field.

Rober Finley, Chester contractor, is to install the 5-foot wide sidewalk and curbing.

Investigation was ordered on a request for a street light on Carolina Ave. in front of the United Presbyterian Church. Kology said repairs will be made to a sewer break on Indiana Ave. near 6th St.

Mayor Burton Ward said the State Road Commission, at the request of city officials, has greed to flush the state-maintained sewer on Carolina Ave. between 1st and 2nd Sts. if the city will furnish a fire hose and water supply. The mayor is to meet with Fire Chief Raymond Gibbs to determine if such equipment is available.

Bills totaling $12,694 were authorized paid.

ask for a new home rathern than keep spending money on the outdated structure. "It would be like buying a $150 door for a $50 auto," he said.

Plans for the new campus-like building system — one-story groupings which would be located somewhere on the present 400 - acre county home site — were drawn by Beatty at a cost of $1 should the issue not pass, Gard said.

Beatty said the new home would provide quarters for 150 people, with utilities designed for serving 250 should the home be expanded. There would be two persons for each bedroom, which would also have toilet accommodations, and there would be bath and shower facilities for every six rooms.

THE BUILDINGS would be fireproof and of permanent materials to hold down maintenance costs. "A flat roof was planned because of the extra costs of hip or gabled roofs," he explained further. The buildings would be one-story because of the difficulty of arthritic or senile persons in climbing stairs.

"Formerly, county homes had atmospheres of poor houses or penal institutions, but we have tried to inject a true 'home' feeling in the arrangements," Beatty said.

Auditor Bell said the bond issue would be for 23 years, since with the present $191 million valuation in the county a .48-mill levy would be able to pay off the bonds in that time.

Bell said the cost to the average home owner—with a $9,000 home valued at tax purposes at $3,000—would be $1.44 a year.

BOTH BELL and Mayor Shoub explained construction of the home would require improved maintenance and operations so that home residents would obtain better care. Consequently, tentative plans call for a half-mill levy to be sought later for home maintenance.

Thus, the cost of providing top-flight care for the county's older residents would be about $2.44 a year for the average taxpayer.

Russell Phillis, superintendent of the home, said it was important to plan for a levy to provide funds for improved care of patients.

"Brick and mortar don't make a proper home; it is care which counts."

Judge Tobin cited the growing problem throughout the nation of caring for older people — the life span of people has increased, and the family units have become smaller. He said rest homes do not provide the full solution to the problem.

County homes have tended to become less of a catch-all for those unable to care for themselves, and more for the care of older persons, such as pensioners he stated.

"We need at our county home to give these older people an incentive to live; they get up in the morning and wait to go to bed at night, without any purpose or activity."

"This is no criticism of the home staff or county officials; they have done remarkably well with what they have, but it is not enough."

CALLING the structure a "tinderbox," he said there are 11 elderly people kept on the third floor —locked in at night because of their senile condition—who would be burned to death in event of a fire.

The two main buildings of the home are over 90 years old and the hospital is over 25 years old. All are in need of extensive remodeling and repairs. More than half the patients have mental impairments and must be kept behind locked doors and barred windows. There are no firebreaks or quick exits because of the manner of construction.

"This home is not a place for neer-do-wells; some of our fine old citizens are living there," Judge Tobin said. "The main object is to get the public informed and to get this measure approved at the polls."

"We should all visit the home, see the conditions there and ask ourselves if we would want our loved ones to stay there," he said.

In an open discussion following the talks, it was reported a trained nurse has been contacted to serve at the dispensary at the home in the near future.

Phillis said there are 123 residents at the home at present. The largest number ever at the home was in 1935, he said. The superintendent reported the home has its own income of about $5,000 a month from pensions paid by residents and from income of the home farm.

THE ANNUAL budget runs about $80,000, with about $50,000 provided from its own income he went on.

Dr. Paul H. Beaver of Leetonia asked what was the philosophy behind the tentative layout of the home. Beatty explained he had prepared the preliminary plans on the basis of current county home trends and said there would be various revisions after more thorough study.

Dr. Beaver said he felt committees should be organized to fully explore the aspects of the home needs and other suitable programs. Cornell Monda, Lisbon school psychologist, said he felt there would be at least another 100 people who would apply for the new home once it would be completed.

BEATTY explained the home was designed to add new rooms and facilities. Auditor Bell said if the issue is passed, it would be possible to collect the tax income for a while before the construction costs were needed, permitting the county to invest the money and collect interest for perhaps two years. The profit from the investment could be used to provide the extra rooms, he pointed out.

Commissioner Gard said there would be changes made in the preliminary plans after a more complete study was made of the home.

The possibility of obtaining state or federal aid in the project is another matter to be given study in the meanwhile, Bell said.

Commissioner Walter Hunston said the need to build a new home was forced upon the commissioners by the state's order to bring the home plumbing up to standard.

HUNSTON SAID he felt the present home plans do not provide a structure of adequate size, and that changes will have to be made. "But it is not good business to keep pouring money into the old home without getting proper return."

Judge Tobin said there are various differences in the planning to be worked out, but the main concern now is to get the issue passed.

The judge said the mental health group is sponsoring the campaign because the commissioners, as public officials, are not permitted by law to actively promote the issue.

"I have faith in the people of this county," he said, "that when they are given the facts, they will support this bond issue."

Gard and Phillis said service clubs, other organizations and the public are invited to visit the present home and to examine firsthand the conditions there.

Mrs. Marilyn Solak, county secondary school supervisor, said she was "appalled" at the home facilities when she recently visited there with the mental health group.

Gard declared the death of any resident at the home in event of a fire would be a terrible blot upon the county. "We should not have to wait for a catastrophe before we start to build," he said.

Mayor Shoub adjourned the meetings, declaring the facts are now available to the public whose understanding should pave the way to providing proper facilities for county home residents.

75 Waited Tonight At Kaycee Dinner

Seventy-five are expected at the annual Constitution Day dinner of Cardinal Mercier General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, tonight at 6:30 in Our Lady of Lourdes Parish Hall at East Palestine.

Principal speaker will be Atty. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville, state advocate of the Kaycees. He will be accompanied by William Kern of Bellaire, a former district deputy and an active K. of C. worker for 40 years.

In connection with the patriotic theme of the program, the assembly also will observe Citizenship Day, which has been proclaimed by President Eisenhower. Constitution Day marks the 178th anniversary of the adoption of the U.S. Constitution.

Pastors of Columbiana County Deanery churches will be among the guests. Atty. Guy J. Mauro of Salem will be toastmaster. Invocation will be by Fr. Homer G. Oliver of St. Patrick's Catholic Church at Salineville and benediction will be by Fr. Joseph Heid of Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

Arson Attempt Seen In Ohio View Blaze

The Pennsylvania state fire marshal, Beaver County detectives and insurance agents are continuing an investigation of an attempted arson of a house in Ohio View, Industry Township police reported.

The house has been vacant about four weeks and is now owned by a bank. The attempted arson was discovered Tuesday morning after a fire in the basement caused some damage and then died out due to lack of oxygen, police said.

In the last two years, newspaper publishers spent more than $150,000,000 to modernize their plants and equipment.

Miss Bonnie Jean Smith was honored with a bridal shower Monday night by Mrs. Kenneth Spore of the Y. & O. Rd.

Instead of the conventional bridal party, a "hard times" theme predominated for the event. Gifts were displayed beneath an umbrella covered with newspapers and around a garden sprinkling car. Favors were butterflies made from the "funnies" and filled with popcorn. A large, cornbread inscribed, "Much Happiness, Bonnie and Don," highlighted the buffet table. Muslin napkins were used.

Prizes of canned goods were won by Mrs. Phyllis Eggleton, Mrs. Theda Smith, Mrs. Myrtle Birch, Mrs. Chloe Smith, Mrs. Ruth Estell and Miss Sandy Smith.

Refreshments were served 28 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Arletta Spore and Mrs. Mary Tucker.

Open church will be observed Sunday at 2:30 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Smith, 1410 Etruria St., and Airman 3C Donald McFarland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gail McFarland of Fontana, Calif., former local residents.

Mrs. Mildred J. Barrett and Thomas W. Eason were united in marriage Sept. 9 at 2 o'clock in the Fellowship Chapel of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church with the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor, officiating.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm J. Milne, 1273 Erie St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary B. Eason, 1222 Jennings Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of turquoise taffeta. Her accessories were white and she carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids.

Mrs. Robert Milne, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a champagne brocade dress with topaz accessories. She carried yellow orchids on her beaded bag.

Mrs. Glen Harriman of Columbus, sister of the bridegroom, and her sons, Jeffery and Thomas, attended.

Other out-of-town guests were from Salineville, Windham, Cleveland, New Brighton and Pittsburgh.

The couple has returned from a wedding trip to Bedford Springs and Eastern Pennsylvania and residing at 825 Orchard Grove Ave.

City Hall Heating Fails As Cold Snap Arrives

The two huge boilers that furnish heat for City Hall, one fired by gas and the other operating on coal, perversely decided not to function this morning during the first chilly weather of the season.

Office employes wore sweaters and jackets against the chill and joked about the heat wave that ended just a week ago.

Glancing at the sunshine outside, one said: "Open the windows and let in some of that warm air!"

By 9:30, the chill was being dispelled. A small blaze was built in the coal-fired boiler, which has a weak tube, and temporary repairs were made on the gas unit, allowing it to be put into operation.

Band Boosters Club Elects At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Mrs. Jean Thomas of near Monroeville was elected president of the Band Boosters Club at a meeting Wednesday night at the high school. She succeeds Mrs. Hollis Young.

Others elected were Mrs. Gordon Sweeney, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Kerr, treasurer, and Mrs. Rose Smith, secretary.

Plans were made for a public smorgasbord Nov. 5 at the high school. Some candy and fishpond concessions will be held at the dinner, and James Wadowick, band director, will arrange for music.

Wadowick read a constitution on which action may be taken at the next meeting Oct. 21.

jected any appointment of a governmental fact-finding board to intervene in the worsening work stoppage.

The President's offer was made three days ago in a letter to President George Meany of the AFL-CIO, although it was made public only Wednesday by the United Steelworkers.

Eisenhower's offer was prompted by an earlier letter to him from Meany in which the AFL-CIO chieftain had expressed opposition to any Taft-Hartley law intervention in the steel strike.

Instead, Meany said, he would suggest that Eisenhower name an impartial fact-finding board.

Laws

provision has been made for write-in voting.

A number of other laws enacted by the last Legislature become effective in the next few days.

One of them, effective Friday, allows health directors, in addition to health boards, to declare a dog quarantine against rabies and empowers officials to require vaccination of pets in such emergencies.

Jailbreakers

Robert Bennett of Chester pleaded not guilty to charges of grand larceny and entering another's auto and his trial was scheduled Oct. 19.

A companion, Benjamin Howell of East Liverpool, indicted on the same charges, failed to appear and a capias was issued by the court.

Robert J. Rogowski, 19, of Weirton pleaded innocent to two counts of breaking and entering. His trial was set for Oct. 1.

A companion, Andrew J. Sterns, 18, also of Weirton, previously pleaded guilty to both counts and is scheduled to be sentenced Wednesday.

Dallas I. Barrett of Weirton is scheduled to be arraigned today on a felonious assault charge.

Capiases were issued for Arthur W. Davis of New Cumberland, indicted for threatened use of explosives against property, and Harold A. Grumet of Weirton, indicted for armed robbery.

Court officials said Davis is under arrest in another state and Grumet is serving an 18-month sentence in Western Penitentiary in Pittsburgh for attempted armed robbery.

Grand Jury

fore the Columbiana County Grand Jury which continued today to wade through the largest number of presentments in the county's history.

Additional cases have boosted to 52 the number of transcripts due for study before the 15-member panel which convened Tuesday, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said.

The Grand Jury completed its schedule of cases Wednesday, and was hearing 20 witnesses in 10 cases today.

Eight additional transcripts have been received, and will be presented Monday, the prosecutor reported. Besides the 44 cases listed earlier this week, the prosecutor has received 2 charges of burglary stemming from an entry at a Rock Camp tavern, 3 truck overload cases and a Leetonia car theft case with 3 defendants.

Brokaw said it is hoped the panel of 11 men and 4 women will finish the investigation Monday afternoon.

Water Staff's Contract Aired

Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening discussed a new union contract for its employes whose present contract expires Sept. 30.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, said negotiations are progressing satisfactorily.

Also discussed were possible improvements to the borough's water distribution system and needed improvements to the department offices and garage.

Sigal said the water system has several weak points that are not dangerous and some could be improved by hydrant changes.

The group discussed enlarging the business offices and the garage, which needs additional storage space. Next meeting will be Oct. 21 in department offices on Railroad Ave.

Midland Works Personnel

Crucible Lists Promotions Given 6

George M. Burrier, works manager, has announced the promotion of six employes of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., including superintendents and two to newly created positions.

Harry C. Barnes has been appointed to a new post as staff assistant of strip mill development. He was division superintendent of the hot and cold strip mills.

BARNES WILL be associated with many important facets of design, organization and planning of Crucible's proposed hot strip mill expansion and related problems of flat rolling.

Before joining Crucible in 1952 as division superintendent, Barnes had spent nearly 20 years with Inland Steel and from 1913 to 1932 was employed by the Wheeling Steel Corp. At both Wheeling and Inland, he helped guide the installation of new strip mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes reside in Beaver. Their son, James, is a dentist in Indianapolis.

H. Francis Shone has been named superintendent of the agricultural department. He was a contact metallurgist in the metallurgical department.

An employe of Crucible for over 30 years, Shone has held various jobs in the metallurgical and sales departments.

SHONE IS A member of the American Society for Metals, Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society. He is also a past member of the Midland Borough Authority and Civil Service Commission and the Rochester Hospital Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Shone and their three daughters reside at 89 11th St., Midland.

John E. Holt has been appointed division superintendent of the hot and cold strip mills and the agricultural and sheared shapes department. He was assistant superintendent of the flat rolled products division.

Other promotions were of William C. Kollmann, Edgar R. Westfall and Robert C. Kelker. Kollmann was named to the newly created position of superintendent of melting while Westfall takes over as superintendent of the open hearth department and Kelker becomes superintendent of the electric furnace department.

HOLT JOINED Crucible in 1943 as Assistant manager of the DPC Department at Midland. He soon became superintendent of the forge stock department and in 1956 he was named superintendent of the 24-inch bar mill. He was promoted to assistant division superintendent of the flat rolled products 1958.

Before coming to Crucible, Holt was employed by the Phoenix Steel Corp. in Phoenixville, Pa. He is a native of England.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt reside on the Calcutta-Cannons Mills Rd.

A native of New Matamoras, Kollmann has been in the steel business since 1934 when he went to work for the Republic Steel Corp.

He joined Crucible in 1954 as assistant superintendent of the electric furnace department and in 1956 he became superintendent, a position he held until his present appointment.

MR. AND MRS. Kollmann and their three children reside at Industry R. D. 1.

Westfall's steel career began in 1934 when he joined the Armco Steel Corp. He was also superintendent of the open hearth at the Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. He joined Crucible in 1956 as assistant superintendent of the open hearth and remained in this post until his present promotion.

Westfall holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan University. He resides on Park Way.

Kelker's entire working career has been with Crucible. He started at the Midland Works in 1936 as laborer in the open hearth department, was made third helper in the electric furnace department in 1940 and after a series of promotions to second and then first helper, he was named junior melter in 1952.

IN 1956 HE moved up to assistant superintendent of the electric furnace department, the position he held until his present appointment.

Although he was born in Fort Wayne, Ind., he spent most of his life in Rochester.

PTA Inducts At Glenmoor

New officers were installed and committee chairmen named at the first fall meeting of the Glenmoor Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night.

Officers are Mrs. Evelyene Badger, president; Jay Wynn, vice president; Mrs. Vera Kirkbride, secretary, and Martin Christian, treasurer, who was elected to replace Mrs. Donald Owens, who resigned.

The chairmen consist of Wynn, program; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rice, membership; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Green, ways and means; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Henderson, playground, and Mrs. Kathy Wolfe, hospitality.

Mrs. Ruth Armstrong, principal, discussed child counseling and announced that a meeting of the Child Counseling Center will be held Oct. 7 at Westgate School. The group donated $5 to the center.

The association decided to join the County PTA Council.

Weirton Facility Construction Set

WEIRTON — Construction will begin in about three months on the National Steel Corp.'s giant new research and development center here, Thomas E. Millsop, president and chief executive officer, announced today.

The new all-steel building will be located in the Weirton Heights area and present plans call for construction to be completed about a year.

Millsop revealed last February that National Steel had purchased 375 acres for the research center and for a new general office building. Further plans for the office building will be announced in the near future.

When the research center is completed, its activities will be carried on under the supervision of J. H. Strassburger, vice president of research and development for National Steel and Dr. Ivor E. Campbell, director of research and development.

While the initial installation will contain approximately 50,000 square feet of space, Strassburger pointed out that the center can be expanded.

Farm Agent Reviews County Disease Prevention Progress

LISBON — Real progress has been made in disease prevention in Columbiana County in the past 12 years, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture, who has observed the development of the various phases.

Health programs in the schools, general health education, sanitary regulations and the work of the voluntary health agencies, as well as the work of the County Health Department, have contributed to the progress, he said.

In 1947, a health survey was made in the county, including 77 per cent of all families residing outside of municipalities.

Nearly 5,000 families were interviewed. A comparison of the survey report with conditions at present points out interesting developments, Lower said.

In 1947, only 3 city schools and one village school had started on a program of requiring immunization for entering school. Oly one-third of the children under 5 years of age were protected against whooping cough and in some townships this was as low as 17 per cent. Only one-third of all the people in the rural area were protected against diphtheria, and only one-sixth were vaccinated for small-pox.

Only 13 per cent were protected against lockjaw. A new law now requires immunization for entering school, but 10 years after the survey, or in 1957, some 75 per cent of the children entering school had their triple basic shots and had been vaccinated for smallpox. In fact, most schools last year required immunization and vaccination for entering. Of course, polio immunization was unknown in 1947, he reminded.

No school nurses were employed in the county and no schools had a health program other than Salem, although several were starting. Today, most schools have something of an educational health program in addition to examinations, TB tests and nurse service. One or two rural schools were all that had hot school lunches and now all are serving such lunches.

In 1947, the report shows, there was a typhoid history for 5 per cent of the people and there were 55 cases of children under 14. There have been no new cases for several years. There were no plumbing and sewage regulations and half the rural families had outside toilets. Inside plumbing without septic tanks was frequently found. With the rapid increase in population in some communities, regulation of sewage disposal became necessary.

There was no health inspection of restaurants in 1947, but today the sanitarian in the County Healh Deparmet spends more than half his time inspecting the nearly 200 food service establishments in the general county health district. The city health departments make the inspection in the four cities.

In 1947, a third of the dairy herds in the county were infected with brucellosis, Lower said, and one out of every 75 farmers who handled cattle had at some time contracted the disease. Ten years later, the county was certified by the state as a modified brucellosis - free area and no new cases of human brucellosis had been reported for several years.

The death rate from tuberculosis was above the average of the entire United States and the Ohio Department of Health records showed 207 known cases of tuberculosis in the county in 1947. Considerable progress has been made in the control of this disease. The survey showed 235 cases of rheumatic fever in the rural area of which 74 were under 20 years of age. Medication for this disease is now being provided by the County Health Department.

These comparisons illustrate, Lower said, the progress being made through the combined efforts of agencies, groups and individuals interested in more healthful living.

Lisbon Awaits Start Of Drive Asking $7,200

LISBON — The annual Community Chest drive will get under way Oct. 5, with a kick - off breakfast at 8 a. m. at the Wick Hotel, according to J. Eyler Hichliffe, general chairman.

Lisbon's goal will be $7,200, with 11 agencies sharing in the drive. Last year the drive collected $6,980 — $80 over the goal. The new goal is up, as requests generally have increased this year.

The exact amount each participating agency will receive will be decided by the budget commission, made up of members of the fund's Board of Trustees.

Besides Hinchliffe, chairman of the committees include:

Mrs. Alfred Steele and Mrs. R. H. Williams, residential drive; Mrs. Ray Alexander, Center Township; Adam Rudibaugh and Dr. E. S. Toolis, breakfast; Walter Taylor, Industry; Charles Faust, professionals; Dave Borrow, schools; Chester Kennedy, publicity; Ross Fox, businesses, and Ed Kauffman, out - of - town businesses.

South To Start 9 Lettermen Here Friday

Stopping two "very fast" backs will be the big problem facing the East Liverpool Potters when they take the field for their 1959 opener Friday night against Youngstown South.

Venditti Set On Lineup For Opener

Coach Lou Venditti saw what both of these boys could do in a preview Saturday night when South defeated Ursuline, 14-0.

The two are very dangerous, along with quarterback Bob Price, in his third season at South. Price will test the Potter defense with his running and passing ability.

Buddy Taylor, 170-pounder, will be at fullback.

Bobby Lisbon, a 130 - pounder, and brother of Don Lisbon, who was a sensation at South last year, is listed as a first-line substitute in the backfield along with Bob Baker, a 160-pound quarterback. Young Baker is the son of Floyd Baker, former infielder for the Chicago White Sox and now a scout for the Washington Senators.

The Youngstown eleven will have a slight edge on the line, headed by Bill Vivolo, a 200-pounder, who drew praise from Venditti with his performance in the preview.

Tom Jenkins (165) and Bill Skowran (165) will be at the ends and Jack Miller (190) and Ken Crawford (160) at the guards. Mike Dorfi, a 175-pound junior, will be at center. Dorfi and Crawford are the only juniors who will start. The other nine are seniors.

The starting backfield for the opener will have all-state candidates Bob Mackall at quarterback and Dave Zelch at left half. Henry Roach, who has been a big surprise to Venditti this season, has earned the starting assignment at right half, while John Goodballet will be plunging from the fullback post.

Tim Archer, the glue - fingered receiver, will be at right end and Ron Prince, the "take charge" guy, will be at the left terminal.

Craig Burbick, beginning his third year as a regular, will be at right tackle, with Skip Hall on the other side.

Charlie Davidson and Jim Bise get the call at guards.

Venditti said only two changes will be made on defense. Kenny Cunningham, the Potters' No. 2 quarterback, will replace Roach at defensive halfback and Larry Crook will spell the center and go to a linebacker position.

15 Leagues In Full Swing . . .

Fifteen bowling leagues have been set up for the winter season.

Ten leagues are under way at the Don-Bus Alleys on Walnut St., while five other loops are either in progress or will start next week at the Headpin lanes in East End.

The downtown alleys list the following leagues: American, National, Federal, T.S.&T. City Ten Pin, Big Ten, Koppers, Cosmo, Cats and Dogs and Patterson Foundry.

In East End, the Review League, Little League, Chester Legion, Big League and Woodchoppers will be rolling once a week.

THE T.S.&T. League got under way last Friday night and will run until April 15. Its new officers are Jim Morris, president, Bob Reed, vice president, and Clarence Moore, secretary - treasurer.

Federal League bowlers have reached their third week already. Millirons set the early pace with 14 points. Their nearest rival, Riverview Hotel is second with 11.

Butch Wucherer found the range for a 220 and 203 and a 612 series and the best effort Tuesday in the Federal League, while Al (300-game) Sayre fired a 212.

Millirons swept its series with Schon Hauling and picked up five points Tuesday.

OWLS CLUB and Gengarellas made it a clean sweep as the National League opened its season Monday night.

Owls took three straight from Allison Insurance, while Gengarellas did the same against Village Green.

Top score of the evening was southpaw Chuck Stewart's 236. Moe Roslovic had a 218 and 209.

A LEAGUE which has grown by leaps and bounds is the Big Ten mixed loop.

Two years ago it had only six teams, last year eight squads and now has shot up to the maximum of 10.

CIO 1212 and Melody Lane jumped off to a fast start in the Cats and Dogs League by taking five points each.

CIO won three straight from Krosneys, while Melody Lane was sweeping its series with Bee Kay. Best efforts for the first night were turned in by John Clendenning and J. Brasco with 210 each in the men's division, while K. Kollmayer and Mary Lou Dickson had 182 to top the women.

Sayre's 300 Best Performance . . .

REVIEWING the action in the Summer Leagues, Al Sayre's 300-game must go down as the outstanding performance.

Al turned in the perfect game in August at the Headpin Alleys.

The summer also saw more leagues organized than in previous years. Several years ago most of the bowling alleys closed for the summer, but the trend now is towards year round bowling.

The women's Cosmo League got underway Wednesday night with Jo Pilgrim showing top score of the night with a 220.

ONLY a few names were turned in for the split - to - spare department this week. In the City Ten Pin League, Bill Taylor collected the 5-10 and 5-6, Vic Ferello, the 5-7-9, John Jack the 5-10, R. Allison the 5-8-10, R. Johnston the 4-7-9 and J. R. Smith the 5-7.

Jake Lascola picked up the 5-6-10 in the National League, while John Karaffa mastered the 3-10 and 5-7 in the Cats and Dogs League.

In the Cosmo League Mary Hughey turned in the 6-7 split, Sara Hague 5-7, Mary Allison 5-7, Dorothy Cartwright 4-5-7, Jane McLain 3-6-7-8-10 and the 4-5-7, Minnie Prezzia 5-7-9 and 5-6, Mary Lou Dickson 5-10, Mary Lako 5-8-10, June McVay 5-10 and Ellen McMath 5-10.

In the City Ten Pin League, Delong had the 5-9-7 and 4-5, Cain and Devon the 5-10 and Brokaw the 3-7-10.

Splits converted in the Federal League showed John Canne with the 5-7 and 4-5-7, Claude Ruckman 5-10, Buck Wilson 4-5-7 and Bill Savage 5-7-9.

Vikings Lose Two Linemen

Raider Coach Shuffles Backfield For Encounter At Newell Tonight

Newell may be without the services of two of its top linemen and coach Charlie Miller of New Cumberland has shuffled his backfield for tonight's game at Newell's Memorial Stadium. The kickoff is set for 8.

Coach Pete Horoszko of Newell said Pearly Adkins, the regular end, will miss tonight's contest because of a knee injury suffered in the Cameron game last week.

Another knee injury may keep Larry Hutton, Newell's 165-pound center, from playing. Horoszko said he still may be able to use Hutton, who doubles as offensive center and defensive linebacker.

Hutton looked very good on defense in Newell's opener at Cameron. Ron Dunlevy, a 170-pounder, will replace Hutton.

The remainder of the lineup is intact, with Mickey Staley at quarterback, Joe Graham at right half and either Tom Woods or Ron Noland at the other halfback spot. Dennis Lee will be starting at fullback.

Denzil Wilson will be at one end and either Bob Barnett or Eugene Hart will replace Adkins at the other.

George Wiersbicki and Jake Geer will be at tackles, with Carl Burligar and Joe Fuller at guards.

Newell lost its only start, a 7-0 decision at Cameron. Tonight's game will be Newell's home opener.

Meanwhile, in the New Cumberland camp, Miller made two changes in the backfield in a move to fashion more speed.

Two juniors, John Hennis (125) and Jim Kiger (130), will be at the halfback posts, replacing Joe Everly and Tom Hale, who started the Northwestern game last Saturday night.

New Cumberland has dropped both starts so far this season. 13-0 to Chester and 6-0 to Northwestern.

Last season New Cumberland routed Newell, 39-7.

Gordon's Future Shaky, Indians' Boss Declares

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Gordon's tenure as manager of the Cleveland Indians appeared shaky today, following a new blast from General Manager Frank Lane.

Lane made it clear in an interview with the Cleveland Plain Dealer Wednesday night that Gordon needs a miracle to stay on. If the second place Indians, now trailing the Chicago White Sox by 5½ games, could win the American League pennant, Gordon would be back as Cleveland manager in 1960.

But Lane said he had four or five men he preferred over Gordon as manager. He refused to say who they are. "If I can get one of them I will," he declared. "I'm thinking of a particular one, but I'm not sure he's available."

Next season's manager will be named before the end of next week, Lane said.

Gordon's failure to call for the bunt in certain game situations recently has irritated the volatile front office boss. The ruptured relations reached a low point Wednesday when both men criticized each other through newspaper headlines here and in Boston.

"I guess I'm a percentage baseball man for the most part. Joe is a gambling manager. It's true we weren't getting the base hits we needed in this trip, but a bunt in the right spot could have meant a couple of victories," Lane said, adding:

"My decision comes on his overall performance since taking over the club. I think he did a better job last season than this year. He was willing to take some advice then. Now he's become a little porky. Maybe he thinks he's a genius. He isn't by any means."

Lane feels Gordon didn't do a good job with the pitching staff and added:

"Joe could have made better use of (pitching coach) Mel Harder. It wouldn't have been out of line to give Mel complete charge of the pitchers.

"And his relations with the players haven't been particularly good . . . There are some ball players here that he just doesn't want on the team. In fact, he's determined to run them off."

The managerial decision will be Lane's alone and he said there will be no meeting with the club's board of directors on the subject. "That was the understanding when I took this job," he explained.

Gordon was hird to replace Bobby Bragan, fired by Lane in the middle of the 1958 season. When Gordon took over the team it was in sixth place but finished up fourth and won 46 while losing 40 under the former flashy second sacker.

This year the Indians surprised most baseball observers by fighting for the pennant all season. Cleveland has an 84-62 mark, but Lane feels the club should have won the pennant. It is no secret he is hurt in seeing the White Sox, a team he helped build in seven years as general manager, bound for their first flag in 40 years.

Syracuse Quarterback Forced To Quit Football

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Syracuse Coach Floyd (Ben) Schwartzwalder is heard to moan, "Oh my achin' back," he has a good reason. It's not his back but that of quarterback Bob Thomas.

Thomas was forced to quit the Syracuse team for the year Wednesday because of a ruptured disc. He was the team's only experienced signal-caller from a trio that last year led the upper New York state eleven to the Orange Bowl after an 8-1 season record.

Just to add to his woes, Schwartzwalder later learned that Dave Baker, his top pass-catching end, is also out for the season with a bum knee. He hurt it last December practicing for the Orange Bowl game against Oklahoma, which the Sooners won 21-7.

Minnesota lost Judge Dickson, its top kicker, who was hospitalized with an elbow injury. He is out indefinitely. Colorado moved two of its fullbacks, George Adams and Jerry Steffin, to starting halfback spots for Saturday's opener against the University of Washington.

Bobby Lackey was installed as Texas' No. 1 quarterback for the opener against Nebraska on Saturday. Halfback Bob Anderson took over kickoff duties for Army with reserve quarterback Tom Blanda handling the extra points and field goals.

Dodgers Seen Cinch To Win —Attendance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers are a cinch to finish first in the National League —in attendance.

But they're going to have to turn one of the year's neatest tricks to wind up in the same place in the standings.

The Dodgers climbed over the two million mark in home attendance Wednesday night, but simultaneously tumbled into third place by dropping a 7-4 decision to their most persistent tormentors, the Cincinnati Reds.

The Dodgers now trail league leading San Francisco by two games and second place Milwaukee by one. They've got another engagement tonight with the Reds, who have beaten them 13 times in 21 tries this season.

McDevitt (9-8), who has a 3-1 record against the Reds this year, will be opposed by Bob Purkey (12-16), who is 1-3 against Los Angeles.

Alston was asked whether he didn't think the schedule leaned heavily against him now, with the Giants holding a two-game advantage and the Braves scheduled to meet last place Philadelphia five more times.

"Well, the way this league has been going all year," he said, "you never know. We thought we had the Giants on the ropes when we went against them here with two days rest right after they lost to Philadelphia. But we didn't.

"I don't know how Philly will play against the Braves, but they've had pretty good luck with them in the past."

Brown To Use Players Expected As Regulars

CLEVELAND (AP) — As the Cleveland Browns head into their final exhibition game with the Chicago Bears here Saturday night, Coach Paul Brown says he will use the players who are expected to carry the load during the season.

"We'll be putting the pieces together in this one," he said Wednesday as the team took a spirited workout in the rain. "Most of the decisions have been made," Brown added.

One of the question marks remains at offensive right tackle. It appears that Willie Davis will share that position with rookie Fran O'Brien from Michigan State. The coach also wants a good look at Ohio State's Dick LeBeau in the defensive backfield and at rookie Bob Ptacek of Michigan as a running halfback.

Masters Berth At Stake Today In U.S. Amateur

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Charlie Coe commented, "I'm playing real well." Tom Draper said, "All I'm trying to do is qualify for the Masters."

That summed up the feeling of 16 players showing up for today's fifth round in the U.S. Amateur Golf Tournament being played on the 7,010-yard, par-71 Broadmoor course.

Coe, the tall, skinny defending champion from Oklahoma City, was paired against Ted Gleichmann of Saticoy, Calif., who has played two previous National meets without going anywhere.

The fifth, or morning round, also carried a bonus of a Masters tournament berth for the eight winners.

Coe, who won the National crown the first time in 1949, won Wednesday's rounds 3 and 1 over Bob Batdorff II, Hershey, Pa., and then beat Jim Vickers of Wichita, Kan., 4 and 3.

Burdette's 21st Victory Is Biggest One Of Season

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Milwaukee's defending National League champions battled today to sweep their vital two-game series with the San Francisco Giants and deadlock the National League pennant race.

"The spirit of this club is high and nobody is letting up," declared 43-year-old Enos Slaughter, the ex-Yankee who only recently joined the Braves.

A veteran of five World Series, Slaughter figured in both runs Wednesday as Lew Burdette became the first major leaguer to win 21 games. Lew blanked the Giants 2-0 for Milwaukee's ninth victory in its last 11 games.

Burdette, who won 17 games, in 1957 and then took three from the Yankees in the Series, reached 21 victories for the first time in a major league career dating back to 1951.

"That had to be the big one for me this year," he declared after shutting out the Giants on four singles and a double, the latter by Felipe Alou with two out in the ninth.

Machen Feels TV Decision Was Best Bout

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Eddie Machen said he did his best infighting ever Wednesday night when he outpointed Willi Besmanoff in a 10-round heavyweight fight.

But the Portland battler didn't demonstrate the punch that accounted for 18 knockout victories in 32 professional fights.

The victory gain for Machen a crack at Irish Pat McMurtry of Tacoma, Wash. The bout will be either in Portland or Seattle this fall, but no date was announced.

Machen's victory over Besmanoff, a German-born fighter now out of Milwaukee, brought his record to 30-1-1.

Besmanoff now is 41-16-7.

Machen had the edge on all the cards. Judge Dick Wagner had it 99-94, Judge Andy Crabtree 99-96 and Referee Eddie Volk 100-94. The Associated Press scored it 99-95.

Buckeyes To Cut Football Drills To One Per Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's one-a-day practices starting today for Ohio State's football team, Coach Woody Hayes announced Wednesday after putting his Buckeyes through their final day of double drills.

Hayes said he was "not particularly impressed" with Wednesday's sessions. In scrimmages, Tom Matte, Terry Hansley, Bob Ferguson and Len Fontes gained most of the yardage for the No. 1 team. Quarterback Jerry Fields completed a number of forward passes to end Jim Houston.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Rich Bradford of Lncaster, Ohio, was put in the first-string wingback position on Indiana's football squad Wednesday. Bradford, just recovered from a practice injury, replaced Randy Williams, who has a pulled leg muscle.

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Bob Jeter of Weirton, W. Va., No. 1 halfback for the Iowa Hawkeyes, has been doing a little running in this week's football practice and is expected to be ready for action next week. Jeter has been hampered by an ankle injury.

Carrasquel's Vision Only 50% In Left Eye

BALTIMORE (AP)—Chico Carrasquel, veteran infielder for the Baltimore Orioles, has been playing for the last four months with only 50 per cent vision in his left eye.

Dr. Erwin Mayer, team physician, said he believes the trouble springs from an injury the 31-year-old Venezuelan suffered here in the second game of a doubleheader May 10 against Boston.

Carrasquel said he was unaware of the eye trouble until it was discovered Wednesday night, during physical examinations given 35 Orioles. He did not play in Baltimore's 3-1 loss to the Detroit Tigers.

97 Pros, Amateurs Vie In El Paso Open

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A field of 97 pros and amateurs tromped over the El Paso Country Club's rebuilt 6,700-yard, par 72 course today as the $20,000 El Paso Open Golf Tournament began.

The field will be cut to the low 60 pros and ties and the low six amateurs after Friday's round.

Richmond Will Try To Get Even In Series

HAVANA (AP) — Righthander Bill Short, top International League winner with a 17-6 record, will try to get Richmond even with Havana in the circuit's final playoff series tonight.

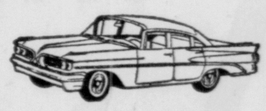

The Cubans won the opener of the best-of-seven series Tuesday night 1-0 in 21 innings, then Wednesday night's game was rained out.

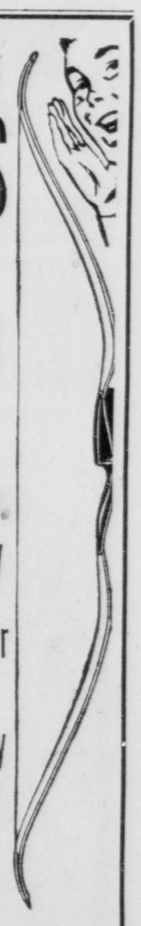

Lefty Miguel Cuellar, 10-111 in the regular season but a 14-strikeout shutout winner over Columbus in a playoff start, pitches for Havana tonight.

Burdette Blanks Giants, 2-0; Braves One Game From Top

Jones Suffers Loss As Lew Hurls 5-Hitter

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

If San Francisco loses the National League pennant, they can blame it on Lew Burdette, the greatest giant killer of them all.

Burdette did it again Wednesday, beating the Giants with a five-hitter 2-0 that slashed their lead to one game. It was his fifth victory over San Francisco this season, bringing his career record against the club to 24-9.

As a result of Burdette's victory, at the expense of 20-game winner Sam Jones, the Braves have a chance to go into a first place tie Thursday. Warren Spahn faces Jack Sanford in the final meeting of the two clubs.

If Spahn wins the Braves will be in excellent position. They will have five games with Philadelphia and three with Pittsburgh.

If the Giants again can win "the big one" and retain their lead, they will be in a strong position. They have three important games at home against the Los Angeles Dodgers before hitting the road next week for the last five at Chicago and St. Louis.

The Dodgers blew a chance to close in on the Giants when they lost to Cincinnati 7-4. The defeat dropped Los Angeles into third place, two games back with nine to go.

Orlando Pena was the winner as Cincinnati whipped the Dodgers for the 13th time in 21 games. The Reds battered Sandy Koufax and three relief pitchers for 13 hits including homers by Frank Thomas and Willie Jones.

Del Crandall and the veteran Enos Slaughter drove in Milwaukee's two runs against the Giants. Joe Adcock's single and Slaughter's walk preceded Crandall's two-out single off Jones in the fourth. The Braves scored again in the eighth.

Vern Law won his 17th game for Pittsburgh, 3-2, in the opener of a double-header at Chicago but the Cubs bounced back to pin an 18th defeat on Bob Friend in the second game 4-2. Sammy Taylor's 11th homer in the ninth beat Friend. Philadelphia and St. Louis were idle.

In the American League, New York downed Chicago 3-1 but Boston knocked off Cleveland 6-5, leaving the White Sox 5½ games in front with seven to play. Detroit defeated Baltimore 3-1.

Casey Praises Spirit Of Sox

NEW YORK (AP) — "I believe in them. I am an American League man. They are well managed, well coached. There is nothing wrong with their spirit. You give them enough and they'll take the game from you."

Casey Stengel was talking about the Chicago White Sox after his New York Yankees had finished their season's business with the apparent pennant winners.

"The longer the season went they confused more clubs with their base running. Maybe it wouldn't bother a club with a real good pitcher, who wouldn't let them get on base. But when they get men on base they never stop.

"Last year they lost the pennant. This year they had the pitching. That was the difference. That fellow (Bob) Shaw came through for them to help (Early) Wynn and (Billy) Pierce.

"Most of all their relief men were remarkable. That fellow (Turk) Lown did a good job. (Stengel pronounces it loan). I had the other man (Gerry Staley). With me he didn't get many clubs out but he didn't have the stuff he has now. He added another pitch, a sinker, and that made him. You could count on him any time you needed him for one or two innings. The big thing is they don't let you get those runs in the seventh, eighth and ninth like they did last year."

Switching to the Sox' possible World Series opposition, Stengel said he figured San Francisco would win the National League pennant.

East Palestine To Open With 10-Game Win Streak

EAST PALESTINE — Howard Weyers, beginning his first year as head coach here, will have his work cut out for him if he expects to match the records of his predecessors.

The Bulldogs, who became the first team to win the Tri-County League title three years in a row, will take a 10-game winning streak into Friday night's game with Beaver.

Palestine won nine straight last season and the final game of the 1957 campaign hasn't lost a league game since 1955.

The outlook this season is bright, since only five regulars were lost from last year's team which compiled the 9-0 record.

Weyers, who came here from Ellwood City, rates the schedule "the toughest East Palestine has encountered in the last seven or eight years."

He pointed to the two new teams — Beaver and Austintown Fitch. "Beaver has been a power in the Beaver Valley for the last three years and we open with them," Weyers commented.

"Austintown Fitch was Steel Valley Champs in 1958 and is expected to be strong again this season," he added.

Palestine has 11 lettermen in the fold this year, including three regular backs.

George Morris was one of the top runners in the district last year and scored 64 points to rank among the leaders. He will be back at a halfback post, while Jim Wisser, a 165-pound junior, looks like the choice for the other halfback spot.

John Tauchar, a 175-pound senior, will be at fullback. He has been receiving a battle for the spot from junior Willard Leake, a 160-pounder.

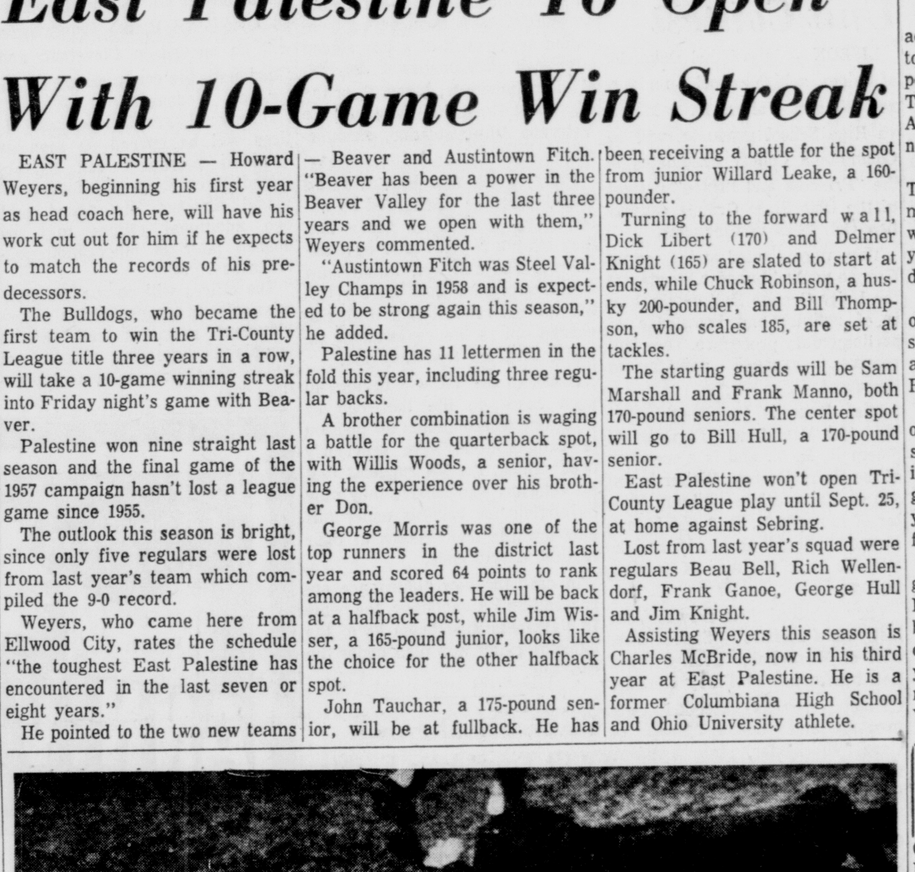

Turning to the forward wall, Dick Libert (170) and Delmer Knight (165) are slated to start at ends, while Chuck Robinson, a husky 200-pounder, and Bill Thompson, who scales 185, are set at tackles.

The starting guards will be Sam Marshall and Frank Manno, both 170-pound seniors. The center spot will go to Bill Hull, a 170-pound senior.

East Palestine won't open Tri-County League play until Sept. 25, at home against Sebring.

Lost from last year's squad were regulars Beau Bell, Rich Wellendorf, Frank Ganoe, George Hull and Jim Knight.

Assisting Weyers this season is Charles McBride, now in his third year at East Palestine. He is a former Columbiana High School and Ohio University athlete.

Month's Continuance Due In Tanker's Case

Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw Wednesday granted a month's continuance — until Oct. 15 — in a case which an Army Reserve tank driver faces charges as the aftermath of a Labor Day collision between his vehicle and a private auto on the Campground Rd.

The trial originally was set for next Tuesday, but Judge Brokaw allowed the continuance when Lt. John Markanton, commanding officer of the Reserve unit, reported that 30 days will be required for a higher headquarters to furnish counsel for the defendant.

The State Highway Patrol charged that Sgt. Donald K. Glass, 27, of Laurel Heights, Chester, failed to yield at least half the highway to other traffic in connection with a crash that involved the tank and an auto driven by Mrs. Catherine Martin, 120 W. Drury Ln., a city "Meter Maid."

Appeal To Be Filed On Metro Amendment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The attorney general's office says an appeal will be filed today to remove the permanent injunction which keeps the metropolitan federation amendment off the November ballot.

Common Pleas Judge Robert Draper, who made the injunction permanent Wednesday, had originally granted a temporary one prior to a court hearing.

The amendment in question provides that in a county having a city of 50,000 or more population, local governments may combine for such duties as police and fire protection.

This year's Legislature decided to put the issue before voters in the form of an amendment to the state constitution. Voters turned down a similar amendment in the last election.

LSU To Open Against Rice

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State's national champions open the football season against Rice Saturday without a blocking back and a top-flight punter.

But Coach Paul Dietzel's headaches would be welcome worries to LSU's 10 rivals this year. All point to the 31 lettermen the Tigers have returning, including All America halfback Billy Cannon.

On the surface, the talented Tigers appear too much of a match for Jess Neely's Owls, who lost 5 of their 10 games last year. LSU is given a two-touchdown edge.

But although Dietzel has an optimistic outlook, he doesn't share the opinion that his Tigers are two touchdowns better than Rice.

"We're starting the season without a kicker of Tommy Davis' stature," Dietzel moaned, speaking of his ace punter and field goal artist who skipped another year at LSU to play professional football.

"And if that isn't enough, we've got to find a replacement for Red Brodnax, who probably was the best blocking back in the Southeastern Conference," said the 35-year-old Tiger mentor who was named football's Coach of the Year last season.

Couple Confesses To Slaying Heir

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A bachelor playboy, heir to a sizable fortune, was shot to death and buried under rocks in a lonely canyon.

The body of William Scott Wright, 37, was found Wednesday night. Police today said a couple whom Wright had befriended admitted the slaying.

Harold Wooley, 36, an ex-convict, said he shot Wright in the head at Wright's mountain cabin.

Then, Wooley told officers, he and his common-law wife Mary, 32, dragged the body to Wright's expensive new sports car and drove it to a place where they had gone for picnics west of Denver. Several boulders were rolled on top of the body and covered with broken bushes.

This happened June 15, Wooley said—10 days after Wright was last reported seen in Denver.

White Sox Can Clinch Pennant This Weekend

By The Associated Press

The magic number now is three for the White Sox to nail down their first American League championship since 1919. Any combination of three Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats would do it.

The entire league has an open date, but Chicago could assure itself of no worse than a tie Friday if it can beat Detroit and Kansas City defeats Cleveland.

The White Sox lost 3-1 to the New York Yankees Wednesday but maintained their 5½ - game lead with only seven to play.

The Indians, with eight to go, lost 6-5 to Boston.

Early Wynn appeared to be rolling toward his 21st victory at Yankee Stadium with a 1-0 lead over New York going into the sixth. The Yanks, however, kicked up their heels for three runs in the sixth to win behind the red hot rookie Jim Coates' four-hitter.

Wynn helped dig his own grave when he mishandled a bunt by Bobby Richardson opening the sixth. The bunt was good enough for a base hit but Wynn attempted to hold up his throw at the last second and tossed the ball into short right. A walk to Mickey Mantle and singles by Yogi Berra, Hector Lopez and Hank Bauer then produced the three runs.

Cleveland blew leads of 2-0 and 5-2 as Boston came back to tie it twice with two in the seventh and then a three-run rally in the eighth. The Red Sox finally won it in the last of the ninth.

Detroit recaptured fourth place from Baltimore by downing the Orioles 3-1 in a night game behind Don Mossii and Tom Morgan. Washington and Kansas City were not scheduled.

In the National League, Lew Burdette of the Milwauke Braves shut out San Francisco 2-0, cutting the Giants' lead to one game. Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 7-4. Pittsburgh split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning 3-2 and losing 4-2.

Filing Deadline Passes

32 Questions And Issues Listed For County Ballots

Columbiana County's Nov. 3 general election ballot will list 32 special questions and issues, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, said today after the deadline passed for filing of the propositions.

Three of the last proposals filed are current operating expense levies in school districts, all of which would be in effect for 10 years. The Wellsville and Leetonia districts are seeking 2-mill levies and Beaver Local district filed a 3-mill proposal. The Wellsville and Beaver Local propositions are renewals. The Leetonia levy is new.

The total of 33 issues includes 2 proposed state constitutional amendments.

The two state proposals are listed on a single ballot. One authorizes municipalities to sell surplus water and sewer service to neighboring communities and another authorizes the State Legislature to enact a law creating more than three judgeships on district courts of appeals.

Oct. 4 is the first day for issuance of civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots.

The list of questions and issues includes two from "overlapping" school districts in adjoining counties. The Mahoning Local District, which includes Knox Township and part of Butler Township in Columbiana County, filed a $1,450,000 bond issue for a building program. The Alliance City School District, which also includes a small segment of Columbiana County, filed a 1-mill, 3-year levy for public library support.

Another last - minute filing was from United Local School District, which entered a new 2-mill levy for 3 years.

O'Hanlon reminded voters that branch registration offices will operate in three spots in East Liverpool next Monday through Wednesday — the last three days for voter enrollment for the election.

The offices will be at the Louis-James Clothing Store on Mulberry St., North Side Fire Station on St. Clair Ave. and Pleasant Heights School on Lisbon St. They will operate daily from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. and 5 to 10 p. m. At the same time, unqualified voters will be able to register at the board's office on W. 6th St.

Officers Are Installed By Cripple Child Group

WEIRTON — Mrs. John Ticich was installed as president of the Hancock County Society for Crippled Children and Adults at a meeting Tuesday night in the Williams Country Club.

Thirty-seven attended. Guest speaker was Dr. Paul Stokely of Steubenville College, who discussed "Education for the Handicapped."

Other officers seated by Mrs. Charles Campbell, installing officer are: Mrs. Howard Lydick, vice president; Mrs. Ed Scully, recording secretary; Miss Ann McNeil, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. R. M. Marsh, treasurer.

Mrs. Ann Matthews, organizer of the society, served as toastmistress.

Night School Will Register

Registration for Midland Lincoln High School night classes will be held in the main hall of the high school Sept. 28-29 from 7 to 9 p. m. both days, William A. Walters, principal, said.

Fees, $2 for adult Midland residents and $9.95 for those living outside the borough limits, are payable upon registration. The $2 fee will be refunded for residents attending 75 per cent of the classes.

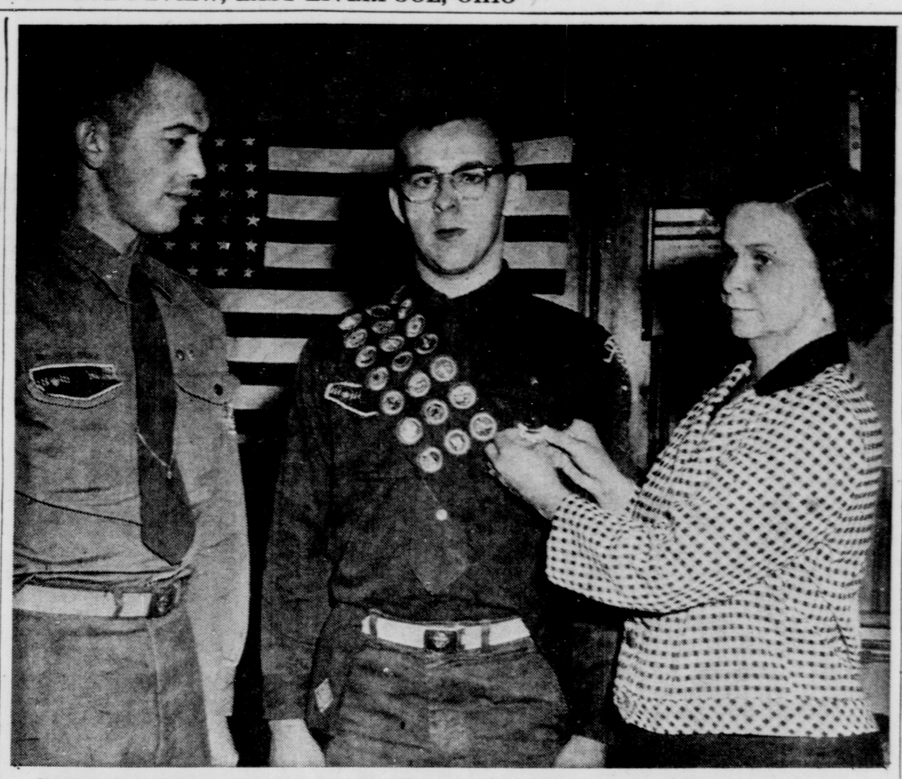

Persons, 17 years or older and not attending day school, are invited to enroll.

Classes will begin Oct. 5 from 7 to 9 p. m. and will be held every Monday and Wednesday for a 10-week period. To form a class, 20 or more people must register, except for the comptometer class which only requires 10.

Classes offered formerly included Americanization, arts and crafts, comptometer, electricity, metallurgy, physical education, sewing, shorthand, typing and woodworking.

Applications are being taken now for the adult driver training course which will be by appointment only. The fee for the course is $30 for 8 hours. Any additional lessons will be $4 per hour.

EARNS SCOUTING'S HIGHEST AWARD. The red, white and blue award of Eagle Scout is being pinned to the blouse of Scott Patton, 18, who was honored as the first Irondale scout ever to earn the rank of an Eagle. The pinning honors are being done by his mother, Mrs. Raymond Patton, right, while Charles T. Hoobler, scoutmaster, looks on. A member of Troop 49 for 5 years, Patton completed requirements for merit badges in lifesaving, scholarship, first aid, marksmanship and many other fields. He earned a total of 21 merit badges. Patton served this year as an assistant troop master of the 26-member group. He will enroll in Kent State University's Freshman Class this month and plans to major in mathematics. Hoobler has been scoutmaster of Troop 49 since 1955. Scouting in Irondale was first organized in 1937 but the program was dropped during World War II and revived in 1954.

District PTA To Meet Oct. 5

Mrs. Gerald Jones will be program chairman when the Pughtown Parent - Teacher Association meets Oct. 5 at 8 p. m. in the elementary school.

It is hoped that the October session will be the final one in the present school, with future meetings to be held in a new building now under construction.

Mrs. Jones is program and Founder's Day chairman for the term. Mrs. Lester Hill is president.

Other chairmen are: Mrs. Wayne Stouffer and Mrs. James Gracie, ways and means; Mrs. Harl Stover, membership; Mrs. Shields Mayhew, hospitality; Mrs. Dorhman Boyles, magazines; James Gracie, transportation; Ray Stevens, radio and television information; Mrs. Lenora Rector, publicity; Mrs. Ralph Huff, social, and Mrs. Floyd Brant, PTA Congress publications.

Membership totals 109 for the new term, Mrs. Stover reported. Mrs. Stover and Mrs. Jones have been elected delegates to the Hancock County PTA Council.

$60 In Donations Made By Legion

A total of $60 in donations was made to various organizations Wednesday night by Newell American Legion Post 114.

They included $40 to the Polio Fund drive, $10 to the Seeing Hand Association and $10 to the Child Counseling Center at East Livepool.

Walter Franczek gave a resume of the post service officer's duties and outlined a proposal to keep area veterans informed of state legislation affecting them. Herbert Eddy, trustee, said work on a new office will begin in about 10 days.

Tony Laneve, adjutant, said 1960 dues are now payable. Paul Mosher, commander, presided. The next meeting will be Oct. 7.

New Spaceship Route To Moon Soviet Goal

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet scientists are looking for a new spaceship route to the moon to avoid charged particles.

Alexander Lebedinsky, cosmic ray specialist, said today data sent back by the moon rocket will "help plot a route which will take a spaceship beyond the earth's 'halo' bypassing the radiation bands."

County School Group To Be In Science Fair

LISBON — Three members of the Columbiana County school staff will participate in the science fair workshop for schools of the Mahoning and Shenango Valley area to be held Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Wilkson High School in Youngstown.

Mrs. Marilyn Solak, county high school consultant, is the workshop chairman and will give the welcome.

Group discussions will be held and Mrs. Olive McBride, Beaver Local High School, and Walter Newton, Fairfield - Waterford Junior High School, will be leaders in general science.

Dr. Vernon C. Lingren, professor of education and director of the office of graduate study of the School of Education at the University of Pittsburgh, will be the keynote speaker.

Alliance Meeting Set On Knox Sewer Plans

LISBON — A special meeting of residents of Sections 4 and 5 in the northwest area of Knox Township has been scheduled Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Alliance City Hall to find how many are interested in a proposed trunk line to hook the rural area in with the Alliance sewage disposal system.

Columbiana County commissioners called the meeting. The project would be financed by assessments.

Alliance officials, in the process of building a new sewage disposal system, asked that a meeting be called for residents in Columbiana County's northwest section, Mahoning County's southwest section and parts of Stark County, who might wish to hook into the new system.

Chester Area Tavern Receives Suspension

Beer Commissioner R. D. Platt at Charleston has slapped a 60-day license suspension, effective Saturday midnight, on Lester S. Fryer, doing business as Bob's Bar on Route 30 back of Chester.

Platt said Fryer was charged with five violations of state beer laws, including illegal sale and consumption of beer on a licensed premises after hours keeping of gaming devices, and illegal possession of alcoholic liquor.

Grange Picks 2 For State Unit Contest

LISBON — Miss Ethel Duke, 16, of Salem, a high school junior, and William Walter, 19, a Minerva High School graduate, will be Columbiana County candidates in the "Princess and Prince" contest of the Ohio State Grange convention Oct. 26-28 in Cincinnati.

They were elected at the county Grange youths' banquet Monday at the Unity Grange Hall on the basis of activity and knowledge of parliamentary procedure. They will receive an expense - paid trip to the event.

Miss Duke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Duke of Salem R. D. 3., and is a member of the Perry Grange. Walter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walter of Minerva R. D. 2 and is employed at Sharff Glass, Inc., Canton. He is a member of Bayard Grange.

They received their crowns from last year's winners — Sandra Pozenel of West Point Grange and Don McCartney of Perry Grange.

Miss Sandra Shaw of Lisbon Grange was in charge of the entertainment and Vince Andrulis of Lisbon called for square dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Matthews of Mile Branch Grange are the county youth chairmen for 1959. They are assisted by Miss Shaw, Miss Pozenel and Cecil Hahn of Greeley Grange.

City Democrat Club Committee To Meet

The by-laws committee of the Democrat Club will meet Friday night at 7:30 at the headquarters at 625 Broadway to set up proposed revisions, according to Larry Finlay, club president.

Finlay said a joint committee from the city central committee and the Democrat Club has been authorized to solicit funds for the coming election.

Committee members have been given letters signed by Finlay and Donal Burcham, city party chairman, identifying them as authorized solicitors. They are the only ones authorized to make any solicitations, Finlay said.

Pension Available To Alien Veterans

Veterans who were discharged as aliens during World War I may be entitled to pension or compensation as a result of a law signed by President Eisenhower July 28, William Holsinger, manager of the Cleveland Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, announced.

Prior to the new law, World War I veterans discharged as aliens were required to prove that they did not request their own discharge. The new act, Public Law 86-113, presumes that these veterans did not request their own discharge unless the government establishes proof that they did.

Although the VA will review all such cases on file that can be identified where claims for pension or compensation have previously been denied, the VA suggests that all veterans who believe they may be eligible for benefits under this new law file their claims at their earliest convenience.

In case the new claims are approved, the VA explained, the benefit payments may begin as of the date the claim was filed under the new law.

Regional Offices Set For Ohio Civil Rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Regional offices for the newly created Ohio Civil Rights Commission will be opened in Cleveland and Cincinnati, the commission's director said Wednesday.

Director Frank Baldau said offices will be opened as soon as qualified personnel can be obtained. Each office will have a regional director. He added that two additional offices may be opened later in other metropolitan areas.

The offices will pursue the commission's program for fair employment practices and receive complaints regarding violation of Ohio's new fair employment practices law.

District Poultrymen Will Tour Area Farms

LISBON — Poultrymen of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties will tour several farms Wednesday according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Farms to be visited, starting at 10 a. m., include:

Keith Laughlin of Pine Lake Rd., Paul and Howard Wise of Columbiana, James Horst of near Washingtonville and R. W. Kenreich of near Greenford.

Luscious Lamb Takes To Partners

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor.

Lamb goes hand in hand with herbs. Want to read and taste?

Leg of lamb with one of the best sauces cooks ever dreamed up — made from fine vinegar, sugar and fresh mint that usually grew in gardens but nowadays may come from the corner market.

Classic lamb kebabs, after an overnight stay with olive oil, onion and oregano, skewered and broiled over charcoal.

THEN THERE are rich brown lamb chops for a quick main dish from the broiler. Fresh green peas with scallions, a little mint and a dollop of butter with these. What could be better?

But those chops can be juicy and tender or dry and tough. To have the first, you need to follow the French cooks who serve their lamb a trifle pink. We know this suggestions goes against American culinary folkways.

But do yourself a favor and just once try it. If you're not convinced, you can put the chops back under the broiler!

Like rice with lamb? Then sometimes add butter (plenty of it), curry powder (to suit yourself) and grated orange rind to the rice. Or take a leaf from Armenian cookery and add pine nuts and currants.

AND NOW'S the time for that famous duo — grilled lamb chops with broiled tomatoes. The French usually add sprigs of water cress to this for a crisp green garnish.

LAMB LOVES MINT. Serve broiled chops with minted green peas, carrots and rice and a crisp salad of lettuce, tomatoes and green pepper.

SAVORY LAMB CHOP TOMATO GRILL

Ingredients: 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper, 1 tablespoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice), 1 small clove garlic (crushed), 4 loin lamb chops (¾ to 1 inch thick), 2 medium-sized tomatoes (cut in half crosswise), 1 teaspoon butter, paprika.

Method: Mix the salt, pepper, onion and garlic. Spread a little of the mixture over one side of each chop; broil several inches from source of heat until browned. Turn chops and spread other sides with a little of the seasoning.

Spread cut sides of tomatoes with remaining seasoning; dot with butter. Sprinkle top sides of chops and tomatoes with paprika. Return chops to broiler with tomatoes and finish broiling; by the time chops are done tomatoes should be cooked through. Count on about 12 to 18 minutes broiling time for the grill. Makes 2 to 4 servings.

For The Girls

CHERRY ICE CREAM PIE

Ingredients: 1½ quarts vanilla ice cream (slightly soft), Toasted Nut Crust, 1 can (1 pound) red tart pitted cherries (water pack), ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, ⅛ teaspoon red food coloring.

Method: Press ice cream evenly into nut crust; freeze until firm. Drain cherries; reserve liquid. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt thoroughly in a saucepan; stir in cherry liquid. Bring to a boil over moderate heat, stirring constantly; boil ½ minute. Remove from heat; stir in drained cherries, butter, lemon juice and food coloring. Serve warm or cold over frozen ice-cream pie.

Toasted Nut Crust: Mix together ½ cup finely chopped blanched almonds, 1 cup crisp rice cereal crumbs (about 3 cups before crushing), 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter; press on bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 6 to 8 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool.

Good Dinner

Use this method to have seasoning seep into a lamb roast.

SAVORY ROAST LAMB

Ingredients: 1 leg of lamb (about 6 pounds), garlic, dried crushed thyme.

Method: If you like you can have the shank bone removed and 3 slices cut from the sirloin end of the roast to use at another meal. Now season the remaining roast this way: with the tip of a small sharp knife, make 6 gashes in the meat; insert slivers of garlic and some thyme in each. Roast in a slow (325 degrees) oven until as brown and done as you like.

Note: For browned potatoes, parboil pared small potatoes and add to the roasting pan about ½ hour before the meat has finished cooking.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I easily clean the tray that is used with a paint roller?

A. You can eliminate the trouble of cleaning the tray at all if you'll line it with some aluminum foil before pouring in your paint. When finished painting, pour the remaining paint into its can, peel off the aluminum foil, and you'll have a clean tray.

Q. What can I do about the greenish oxide that forms on copper pipes and fixtures?

A. Rub with very fine steel wool, then buff vigorously with a soft cloth or with a powder buffer. Apply a coat of clean lacquer to prevent further oxidizing.

Q. How can I deodorize dress shields when washing them?

In And Out—Fast

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Police officer Leon Palmarchuck probably was on the McAlester department's payroll the shortest time of any man. He was a policeman only eight hours. He was dismissed when it was learned he hadn't been a McAlester resident for one year.

Shrimp In Foil Is Boon For Outdoor Cooks

Meals cooked and served out of doors have a special fascination and flavor all their own. And when you use aluminum foil, there seems to be no limit to what you can cook on an outdoor stove.

You don't have to worry about the little shellfish falling through the grill to the coals below; and, furthermore, sealing them in aluminum packets while they cook preserves their distinctive flavor.

Shrimp In Foil

1 lb. shrimp, cleaned
¼ cup canned sliced mushrooms
One-third cup melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped scallions
1 tablespoon chili sauce
One-third cup chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
Few drops Tabasco
Few drops Worcestershire

Divide shrimp between 2 or 3 pieces of aluminum foil; top with mushrooms. To butter add scallions, chili sauce, parsley, salt, garlic salt, Tabasco and Worcestershire. Pour over shrimp. Close foil to make tightly sealed packets. Grill foil packets on or close to hot coals 5 to 10 minutes, or until shrimp are done.

Italian-Style

PARMESAN SNAP BEANS

Ingredients: 1 pound snap beans, 1 cup boiling water, salt, 1 clove garlic, 2 tablespoons olive oil, ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese, pepper.

Method: Cut ends from beans; scrub in cold water; drain. Cut is slanted 1½ -inch crosswise pieces. Put in medium - sized saucepan with boiling water and ¾ teaspoon salt; cover and cook rapidly until tender, 10 to 15 minutes, lift cover a few times to help keep beans green. Drain.

Smash garlic a few times with the handle of a heavy knife; heat garlic slowly in saucepan with oil; remove garlic. Mix drained beans with oil; reheat. Remove from heat and mix in cheese at once. Add more salt if necessary and pepper to taste. Makes 4 servings.

About 20 cents of each dollar spent by consumers for farm-produced foods are spent on dairy products.

Coconut Cream Pie Will Please Family Taste

Want a dessert that will please the whole family? Then why not try coconut meringue pie, a dessert that will make everyone's eyes light up in anticipation?

Coconut Meringe Pie

1-3 cup sugar
½ cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
1 cup flaked coconut
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 tablespoon butter
1 baked 9-inch pie shell
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
½ cup flaked cocnut

Combine 1-3 cup sugar flour, and salt in top of double boiler: add milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Add 1 cup coconut. Cook over rapidly boiling water 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Mix small amount of mixture with egg yolks; return to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and butter. Cool. Turn into pie shell.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Pile lightly on filling. Bake in hot oven (425 deg. F.) 5 minutes. With ½ cup coconut, decorate meringue. Then bake 3 minutes longer.

Meat Loaf Dish

TWO-MEAT LOAF

Ingredients: 1 egg, ½ cup milk, 2 cups soft bread crumbs (4 thin slices with crusts), ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons instant minced onion, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 pound ground lean beef, 1 pound sausage meat.

Method: In a medium-sized bowl beat egg and milk enough to combine. Add bread crumbs and allow to stand for 10 minutes or longer; work together with a fork. Stir in salt, pepper, onion and chili sauce.

Add beef and sausage; work in well. Rinse a loaf pan (about 8 by 4 by 3 inches) with cold water; pack meat into it; run a spatula around sides; turn loaf out on baking pan (11 by 7 by 1½ inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour. Pour off fat; allow loaf to stand about 10 minutes; remove from pan. Add a little water to drippings in pan and stirring, bring to a boil, to make a small amount of natural gravy. Makes 6 servings.

Good Dinner

CANTALOUPE PINEAPPLE

Ingredients: 1 medium - sized cantaloupe, 1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) pineapple chunks, 2 tablespoons kirsch (if desired).

Method: Cut cantaloupe in half the long way; remove seeds. With a mellon-baller or round - bowled ½-teaspoon measuring spoon, cut balls out of cantaloupe flesh. Add to pineapple chunks and syrup. Stir in kirsch if used. Chill. Makes 6 servings.

The Bride Cooks

NEW ORANGE SALAD

Ingredients: 2 medium - sized oranges, 2 cups bite - size pieces romaine (pack down lightly), ¼ cup paper - thin red onion rings, salad dressing made from a dry mix designed for Caesar salad and flavored with cheese and garlic.

Method: Pare oranges so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Cut each section in half crosswise.

Arrange over romaine in salad bowl. Add onion rings. Cover and chill until serving time; then toss with a little of the salad dressing, adding it sparingly because it is strong. Makes 2 servings. If rings are cut from a large onion, halve or quarter them.

Rangetop Supper

STEWED TOMATOES

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes, 1 tablespoon corn starch, 1 teaspoon instant minced onion, 1 can (8 ounces) tiny green peas, ½ cup finely diced green celery, ¼ teaspoon salt, white pepper, basil (if desired).

Method: Put a little of the liquid from the stewed tomatoes into a 1-quart saucepan; add cornstarch and stir until smooth. Add tomatoes, including all their liquid and onion. Cook and stir constantly until thickened and smooth. Drain peas and add with onion, salt, pepper to taste and dried or minced fresh basil (if used). Reheat. Makes 6 servings.

Radio and television stations invested $20,857,000 in daily newspapers in 1958 — 16 per cent more than in 1957 — to tell the public about their programs and personalities.

As Benjamin Franklin
SAID:
"WHAT ONE RELISHES, NOURISHES"

. . . and nothing will be relished more by your family and guests than Mount Vernon Cherry Pie made with

FRANKLIN SUGAR

MOUNT VERNON CHERRY PIE

1-lb. can tart, red, pitted cherries • 1 cup Franklin Granulated Sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch • 1 tablespoon butter • 1 teaspoon almond extract
1 tablespoon fine bread crumbs • pastry* for 8-inch double-crust pie
2 tablespoons Franklin Confectioners 10-X Powdered Sugar

Drain cherries and stir liquid slowly into mixture of sugar and cornstarch. Stir over heat until it comes to a boil. Remove from heat and add butter. Stir and allow mixture to cool slightly. Add almond extract and cherries. For crisp bottom crust, sprinkle bottom of pastry shell with bread crumbs before adding filling. Moisten edge of pastry, then top with upper crust. Make 2 or 3 slits in top crust, then place pie pan on cooky sheet. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 10 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350°F.) another 25-30 minutes. While pie is still hot, sprinkle top with Confectioners Sugar. Serve hot or cold. Makes 8-inch pie.

*For extra flavor in pastry, sift flour with ¼ cup Franklin Granulated Sugar and 1 teaspoon Franklin Sugar & Cinnamon before cutting in shortening.

WHERE DID IT START? In Mexico or California? Many a chef and restaurant have claimed the famous Caesar Salad. But wherever its origin, one thing is sure, it's utterly delicious.

Try Baby Stuffed Turkey

COMING UP. Put baby turkeys and extra stuffing in the drip tray of the rotisserie a half hour before end of cooking.

If you've been tempted by the plentitude of baby turkeys to put a couple of them on a rotisserie, you have probably discovered that directions for spit - roasting them are few and far between.

So here are the specifics. If you follow them you should have two delightfully brown and juicy birds.

BABY-STUFFED TURKEYS

Ingredients: 2 fryer - roaster turkeys (about 5 pounds each ready - to - cook weight), 1 bag (8 ounces) herb-seasoned stuffing, soft butter or margarine or shortening.

Method: If turkeys are frozen, thaw; wash, drain and pat dry. Prepare stuffing according to package directions. Spoon equal quantities of stuffing into each body cavity (about 2 cups in each). Place small piece of foil over exposed stuffing and tuck into body cavity to hold stuffing in place. Tuck tail and drumstick under band of skin or tie them together. Place turkeys, one breast up and the other breast down, on rotisserie spit so they rotate smoothly. Push spit between branches of the wishbone near the tip toward the tail end of bird so that tip emerges between drumsticks and tail.

The other bird should be placed on spit in the opposite direction. Flatten wings against sides, then tie the wing tips over the breast; bring cord over drumsticks and tie them together binding them to spit at the same time. Be sure skewer prongs are firmly in place in bird and screwed tightly. Place spit in rotisserie. Spread turkeys with butter and start the cooking.

Follow manufacturer's directions, or your own tried and true method, for heat — probably medium. If turkeys brown too rapidly, reduce heat; the rapid-browning parts may be covered with pieces of foil. Cook until thickest portions of drumsticks are quite soft when pressed between fingers and thick white meat just above wing joint is fork tender — about 3 hours.

Additional stuffing may be spread in drip tray to cook the last 30 minutes, first pouring off any accumulated drippings.

There Are Many Ways For Using Bread Pudding

If one were to pick the food counterpart of the basic sheath of the fashion world, one would select the bread pudding. And why not?

It too, can be dressed up or dressed down to the occasion. The basic bread pudding recipe can be varied from the well known simple dish to a simply elegant dessert, the American Institute of Baking points out.

First, one with a real surprise in its preparation. Using basic bread pudding ingredients, the bread is prepared as for French toast, with this difference, it is baked over a mixture of brown sugar, butter and walnuts. This is served upside down, with rum sauce and topped with ice cream. Bread pudding, yes, but it makes Baba au rhum seem plebian by comparison.

A dress-up-to-the-occasion version is apple-peanut bread pudding. Here peanut butter is added to the basic apple version and served with a lemon sauce.

Another frill which comes off very attractively, indeed, is pour a lemon juice mixture over an apricot-nut brown Betty before it disappears into the oven heat. A culinary take-off on bread pudding fashions is our recipe for raisin-nut squares. Turns out quite like the traditional fruit-nut bar.

Sunday Night

GRAHAM CRACKER TORTE

Ingredients: 1 cup very fine graham-cracker crumbs, 1 cup sugar, ¾ cup coarsely - chopped walnuts, 3 large eggs (separated), ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Stir together the graham-cracker crumbs, ½ cup of the sugar and the walnuts. Beat egg whites until foamy; add salt and gradually beat in remaining ½ cup sugar until very stiff and glossy. At once, without washing beater, beat egg yolks and vanilla until thick and lemon colored; fold into beaten whites. Fold in crumbs and walnuts. Turn into a buttered and floured 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a slow (325 dgerees) oven 40 minutes. Set pan on wire rack to cool. Cut into wedges and remove with spatula. Nice with whipped cream or ice cream. Makes 8 servings.

Note: 14 graham crackers from a small (7¾ ounces) box were used to make the 1 cup crumbs called for, crushing them in an electric blender. If a rolling pin is used for crushing, make sure crumbs are very fine.

Company Dinner

BRAISED STEAK

Ingredients: 2 pounds round steak (1½ to 2 inches thick), 3 tablespoons four, 2 teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 large onion (quartered and cut into thin strips), 1 large green pepper (cut into thin strips), 1 large rib celery (sliced thin), 1 bay leaf, 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, 1 teaspoon sugar, 6 fresh basil leaves (minced) or dried crushed basil to taste.

Method: Cut most of fat away from around meat. Mix the flour, ½ teaspoon of the salt and the pepper; pound into meat. In very hot medium - sized heavy skillet melt a small piece of the steak fat; brown steak on both sides. Add onion, green pepper, celery, bay leaf, tomatoes and sugar. Cover and simmer until steak is tender — 1½ hour or longer. Stir in basil shortly before serving. Remove bay leaf. Add more seasoning if desired. Skim off any fat. Makes 4 servings.

LETTER PERFECT. Alphabet cake will enchant beginning readers. The dessert is frosted in chocolate and yellow, then the letters are written with a pastry tube with decorating icing.

GO PARIS! Serve celery hearts, simmered in broth and then marinated, as a Parisian appetizer or a salad.

Friday Lunch

STUFFED TOMATO SALAD

Ingredients: 4 medium - sized tomatoes, 1 can (6½ ounces) king crabmeat, ¼ cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 1 tablespoon catchup, lemon juice, salt, capers, salad greens, cucumber.

Method: Remove a thin slice from bottoms of tomatoes so they will stand straight. Cut out centers from tops in plug shape; remove seeds with fingers; turn upside-down to drain. Drain crab; remove cartilage.

Mix salad dressing and catchup and mix with crab; add lemon juice and salt to taste. Stuff mixture into tomatoes; garnish with capers. Arrange on plates with greens and sliced cucumbers. Makes 4 servings.

Oven Dinner

SAVORY ROAST PORK

Ingredients: 1 fresh loin pork roast (about 5 pounds and from shoulder end, ½ teaspoon all-purpose seasoned salt, ½ teaspoon garlic salt.

Method: Have meatman saw backbone of pork roast free from rib and other bones. Mix together the seasoned salt and garlic salt; rub over top of roast. Place on a rack in a shallow pan; have fat side up and insert meat thermometer in center.

Roast in a slow (325 degrees) oven until thermometer registers 185 degrees — 45 to 50 minutes per pound. Do not add water; do not cover. Allow to stand 15 minutes or so in warm place before carving.

AWOL Pet Dog Found After 500-Mile Hunt

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Army Pvt. and Mrs. Alva Fincham Jr. drove 500 miles, searched several days for their pet dog which was AWOL, then drove back to Ft. Riley, Kan., discouraged.

But the Humane Society didn't give up. It continued running a newspaper advertisement. A week later, the dog, named Johnny, was found and shipped to the Finchams. It had bolted from a shipping crate at the St. Louis Union Station.

Family Dinner

FRESH PLUM AUFLAUF

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1-3 cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 2 pounds fresh purple plums (Italian prunes), ½ cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, salt, 2 eggs (separated), ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 4 teaspoons water.

Method: Melt butter in cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Sprinkle brown sugar over butter. Pit and halve plums; place skin side down over brown sugar. Sift together the flour, baking powder and a pinch of salt.

Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in ¼ cup of the sugar, continue beating until stiff. Without washing beater, beat egg yolks 1 minute; gradually beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar, then vanilla and water. Gradually sift in and fold in dry ingredients. Fold in beaten egg whites. Spread over plums.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until tester inserted in center of batter comes out clean. Serve warm, removing portions with a large spoon or spatula. (Cake topping will shrink.) Makes 6 to 8 servings. Top with whipped cream. Note: You'll need 28 to 32 plums for this dessert.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Assist Child Who Can't Speak Plainly

If your child does not speak plainly, he will be handicapped at school. To other children and his teacher he may seem to be much younger than he really is and may be treated by them accordingly. Before he entered school you may hardly have been aware of his poor speech.

By Garry Meyers

You could understand him and the neighborhood playmates could, too. Indeed, you may have considered his speech rather cute. But if the teacher must often ask the child to repeat a question or remark in order to ascertain what he has said and if his classmates also must, this child may grow self-conscious of his speech defect and grow very shy and uncomfortable, more so if he finds that a few children mock him or make fun of him.

The school's special speech teacher, if there is one, may give him some special help. Yet his having such help may magnify, in his mind and the minds of the other children, the gravity of his speech defects.

YOU COULD write down, while he is at school, some of the words and sounds he has trouble with, such as wove for love, ting for thing, told for cold. You may recall different words.

While he is home, take down secretly, over several days, a list of his troublesome words. Study this list so as to ascertain the few words and sounds which he always says wrong.

Then, without his knowing your plan, say these words very distinctly in your normal conversation with him. Also read a great deal to him, trying to choose some selections containing a few of these words.

Your big problem is to keep him from being embarrassed as you try to help him. While each member of the family might contribute, each should aim to do so privately and not while any other person is present.

To correct him before playmates or strangers could be very harmful. Even when alone with him, you should avoid interrupting him to make him repeat a sound or word after you.

SOMETIMES when you and he feel at ease together, you might repeat the strategic word correctly after he has finished what he wished to say, hoping he might choose to say it after you.

At times when you are alone with him, you might get him to look at your mouth as you shape one of these words, or look at your mouth in the mirror. From this it could be an easy step to his watching his own mouth in the mirrow, while saying certain sounds or words. It would be desirable, of course, to have this child's hearing tested.

My bulletin "The Young Child's Speech" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

For The Girls

BLUEBERRY PUFFS

Ingredients: 1 cup biscuit mix, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg, ¼ cup light cream, ¾ cup cultivated blueberries, extra sugar, cinnamon.

Method: Do no pack biscuit mix down in measuring. Stir mix and 1 tablespoon sugar together. Beat egg until thick and lemon colored; beat in cream. Stir into biscuit mix with a fork; beat out any large flour lumps, but do not beat smooth.

Fold in blueberries. Drop into 12 small (each holding 2 tablespoons) muffin-pan wells. Sprinkle ¼ teaspoon sugar over each muffin; dust with cinnamon. Bake in hot (450 degrees) oven 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Friday Lunch

SCRAMBLED EGGS

Method: Beat eggs and salt with a whisk just until whites and yolks are combined. Dice cheese very fine. Melt butter in 8-inch skillet until sizzling; add eggs; turn heat low. As egg congeals on bottom of skillet scrape up with spoon; do not stir constantly. Scrape up center as it congeals.

When eggs are as firm as you like them, remove them from heat and immediately stir in cheese. Lift from pan with pancake turner or wide spatula and sprinkle with paprika. Makes 2 servings.

Creamed Celery

CREAMED CELERY

Ingredients: 2½ cups thin celery crescents, 1 cup boiling water, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 1½ tablespoons flour, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper, ¼ cup nonfat dry milk.

Method: Cook the celery rapidly in a 1-quart covered saucepan with the boiling water and ½ teaspoon of the salt just until tender-crisp — 8 to 10 minutes. Drain; add enough warm water to the celery liquid to make 1 cup. Melt butter in the saucepan over low heat; stir in until smooth the flour, the remaining ¼ teaspoon salt and the pepper.

Remove from heat. Gradually add the 1 cup celery - water mixture, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat. Sprinkle dry milk over mixture; beat with a whisk or rotary beater until smooth. Return to low heat; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add drained celery; reheat. Makes 4 servings.

Sunday Dinner

GEORGIA PECAN PIE

Ingredients: ½ cup sugar, 1 cup dark corn syrup, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 cup pecan halves, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, unbaked 9-inch pastry shell.

Method: In a 1-quart saucepan, over moderate heat, bring the ½ cup sugar and corn syrup to a boil, stirring occasionally; stir in butter. Meanwhile in a medium-sized mixing bowl, beat eggs lightly.

Stirring vigorously, slowly pour hot mixture over eggs. Stir in vanilla, salt and pecans. Mix flour and 1 tablespoon sugar; sprinkle over unbaked shell; pour in filling. Bake in moderate (350 degrees for a glass pie plate and 375 degrees for a metal pie pan) until cake tester inserted halfway between outside and center comes out clean — about 45 minutes. Cool on rack.

Weight-Watchers

ORANGE GELATIN

Method: Use frozen orange concentrate and dilute according to directions on can. Pour 1 cup of the orange juice into a measure; sprinkle with gelatin to soften. Heat remaining 1 cup orange juice until very hot — bubbles will appear around edge.

Pour hot juice into gelatin mixture; stir to dissolve. Pare oranges so they are membrane-free; cut sections away from dividing membrane. (Add any juice from oranges to gelatin mixture but no more than ¼ cup.) Put orange sections into 5 individual molds (about ½ cup size). Add gelatin mixture; chill. Unmold at serving time. Makes 5 servings.

Story On Corn Fritters

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Specialty of New England, favorite of the South and pride of the Midwest. Each region claims corn oysters, although sometimes insisting the name is corn fritters.

But where did this indigenous American dish truly originate?

Heaven keep us from taking sides in a culinary controversy. But from digging into old cook books, it looks as if New England had the right to claim this simple but utterly delicious recipe.

Naturally we went to the first American cook book written by a Southern woman, Mrs. Mary Randolph's "The Virginia Housewife: or Methodical Cook," published in 1824. Mrs. Randolph gives sweet green corn short shrift: not one mention.

In the next batch of cookbooks written before 1865, recipes for corn oysters begin to pop up.

And a lady from Andover, Mass., gives a clue to how the dish got its odd name. First she directs you to the preparation: "Grate sweet corn, mix with well beaten egg, flour, cream and salt." Then she adds, "Fry exactly like oysters, dropping by spoonfuls about the size of an oyster, into just enough fat to brown."

She declares, "They resemble and have much the flavor of fried oysters;" to us this seems confusing taste with name!

Nowadays cook book authors do not bother to explain the momenclature. But many modern recipes — by whatever name — suggest dropping the corn mixture into "oval shapes," or say, "These little fritters should be the size of large oysters."

Right from the beginning, corn oysters were made in several ways. They included only a little flour — the best way, we submit— or a good deal. They were fried in shallow or deep fat.

Sugar was omitted or added. Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, who was the editor of "Godey's Lady's Book," included no sugar in her basic recipe, but then she explained: "Corn Fritters: American . . . are excellent for breakfast . . . for dessert put in sugar instead of salt and pepper, and eat them with your favorite sauce."

TRICK OF THE TRADE. Run a sharp knife blade down through each row of kernels before cutting corn from cob for use in corn oysters.

FRESH CORN OYSTERS

Ingredients: 2 cups corn (cut off cobs — about 6 ears), 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ cup butter or margarine.

Method: Before cutting corn off cobs score the ears by slitting kernels with a knife drawn through the center of each row. Cut off kernels and scrape ears well with the bowl of a tablespoon to get all the pulp and milk. Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored; beat in sugar, salt and corn. Stir flour and baking powder together and lightly beat into corn mixture. Melt 1 tablespoon of butter in heavy skillet or on griddle; drop heaping tablespoons of corn mixture into hot fat. When oysters are browned on bottom and slightly set on top, turn and brown other side. Add more butter to skillet as needed. Makes 16.

Here's Treat For The Kids

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(AP) Newsfeatures Food Editor

After a summer of trying to think up answers to the perennial question, "What can I do now, Mommy?" having youngsters busy away from home is the answer to a mother's dream.

And mothers needn't feel one bit guilty. The kids are usually just as glad to get back into the school swing as older folk are eager to have them there.

But mothers are notably of two minds. Even if they can live without having their children around every minute of every day, they'll knock themselves out preparing something special for small fry to enjoy at meals.

One idea has always been intriguing. We once had an avocado salad with a ticktacktoe decoration served to us at a New York restaurant. Since then we've used this "game" idea in amusing garnishes. Here's our latest: Ticktacktoe Sandwiches. Serve them for lunch one day soon after school begins along with a nutritious vegetable creamed soup. Double the recipe and use it sometime for your own group of friends for an evening snack.

TICKTACKTOE SANDWICHES

Ingredients: ¼ cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing, ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard, ¼ cup finely diced celery, 1 can (6½ ounces) tuna (chunk style), sliced bread, pimiento or cooked beets (plain or pickled), stuffed green olives or tiny mushrooms (plain or pickled from can or jar).

Method: Mix the salad dressing and mustard; add celery. Drain tuna lightly; mix in. Toast bread if you like; spread tuna over surface of slices—we use 6 slices of thinly-sliced bread. Cut pimiento or beets in strips.

Make a ticktacktoe design over each piece of bread and tuna, making lines and crosses with pimiento or beets and using olives or mushrooms for circles. Makes six open sandwiches.

Kennedy Speaks About Red China, India Struggle

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—The real struggle between India and China is for the economic and political leadership of the East, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) told a Miami University student convocation today.

Before moving on to appearances later today in Cincinnati and Dayton, Kennedy asserted: "We want India to win that race with Red China. . . . It is our job to prove that we can devote as much energy, intelligence, idealism and sacrifice to the survival and triumph of the open society (of India) as the Russian despots can extort by compulsion in defense of their closed system of tyranny."

Kennedy came to Ohio Tuesday night for a conference with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, but made a hurry-up trip back to Washington for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

To Expand In Ohio

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—The American Electric Power Co. plans to expand in the Ohio Valley. The company owns a tract of land at Clarington, Ohio, which company president Philip Sporn said was purchased with the idea of building. Other sites in the valley also are being considered, he said, for projects to be announced in the near future.

State Should Plan Far Ahead, Governor Says

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The State of Ohio, like a big industrial corporation, should plan many years ahead, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle believes.

He told a dinner audience of the professional journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, Wednesday night that there is great need for a central planning agency to provide coordination and continuity in preparing to meet future problems of state government.

As Ohio grows industrially, the costs of its government also will grow, DiSalle said.

The governor said he wanted the Legislature to set up a Hoover-Commission type of study for state government reorganization, but failed to win support for the move.

Treat From Old London

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

This very very English cake should be a terrific American success.

To our knowledge, this is the first time a recipe quite like this one ever has been published in this country.

So if you enjoy piquing taste buds and are interested in cake-making development, here's your chance to be one of the first cooks in the United States to offer the London Sponge.

What's so different about the cake? It has the flavor and airy texture of good sponge cake, but it calls for no flour.

Its secret ingredient is corn starch — the product the English name corn flour. Because corn flour is a little more refined than corn starch, it took a great deal of test-kitchen experimentation to work out this rule, so use the ingredients and proportions specified.

And weight-watchers take note. Cut the London Sponge and a standard chiffon cake (both unfrosted) each into 10 pieces; a portion of the sponge will have 122 calories, the chiffon 170. Enjoy the sponge and you will be 48 calories ahead.

In England two-layer cakes such as this London Sponge are called "sandwiches" because usually they are filled with jam, sprinkled with castor (very fine granulated) sugar and served at teatime. If you want to turn the "sandwich" into a "Gateau" as the British sometimes do, fill and top it with peaches and whipped cream.

LONDON SPONGE

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar, 2-3 cup sifted corn starch, 3 eggs (separated), ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar, 2 tablespoons water, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Sift together 3 times ½ cup sugar and the corn starch. Beat whites, cream of tartar and water in a large bowl with a rotary (hand or electric) beater until peaks that bend over slightly form. Beat in remaining ½ cup sugar a little at a time; continue beating until stiff peaks form.

Add egg yolks and vanilla; beat in just until blended. Fold in sugar-cornstarch a little at a time, making sure it is all blended. Bake in 2 ungreased unlined round layer-cake pans (each 8 by 1¼ inches deep) in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until top springs back when touched lightly. Place pans on wire racks to cool. Cut cake edges away from sides of pans and ease out.

Quick Supper

JIGTIME CHILLI

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 pound lean ground chuck beef, 2 tablsepoons chili powder, 1 can (17 ounces) red kidney beans, 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cumin seed, 1 clove garlic (crushed).

Method: Cook beef in butter in 10-inch skillet until it loses its red color, mashing with a fork. Add chili powder, beans (including liquid in can), stewed tomatoes (including liquid in can), salt, cumin and garlic. Simmer, stirring occasionally, for ½ hour. Makes 4 servings to be served in wide soup plates.

A Special Treat

TOMATO BOUILLON

Ingredients: 2 cans (each 10½ ounces) chicken broth, 2 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon onion juice, salt, pepper, ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder.

Method: Heat broth, tomato juice, onion juice, salt and pepper to taste and garlic powder. Serve in bouillon or other cups. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For paprika crackers to serve with the tomato bouillon, spread round butter crackers lightly with soft butter; sprinkle lightly with paprika. Brown under broiler; watch so as not to scorch. Browning will take no more than ½ to 1 minute.

The Bride Cooks

Veal Alla Marsala, mashed potatoes, broccoli, salad bowl, hard rolls, cream cake, beverage.

VEAL ALLA MARSALA

Ingredients: 1 pound thinly-sliced veal (from the leg), 3 to 4 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup butter, 1-3 cup Marsala.

Method: Coat veal with flour mixed with salt and pepper. Melt butter in heavy hot 10-inch skillet; add as many pieces of veal as will fit in pan in one layer. Brown meat rapidly on both sides; by this time it should be cooked through.

Remove and keep hot while you brown remaining meat if necessary; remove these pieces. Pour the Marsala into the skillet and stir well. Pour this small amount of sauce over the veal. Makes 3 servings.

Gen. Medaris Lives Up To His Reputation

At a press conference later, Medaris was asked if the Army planned to put the elephant in orbit.

"No," Medaris said without hesitation. "If we did that, the Democrats would demand equal time in the air.

Pig In A Blanket

Mrs. Paul Susich Sr., 328 Beaver Ave., is shown preparing the Serbian dish "Sarma", or as it is known in English, "Pig In A Blanket."

Sarma is served at all Serbian weddings, at some Italian weddings, and on other special occasions.

For a serving for three, the recipe calls for a pound of meat, including veal, pork, beef and two slices of bacon, all ground; this is mixed with one chopped onion and two tablespoons of boiled rice. Added is a pinch of salt, pepper, paprika and a little garlic.

The meat mixture is fried until brown and then rolled up in pre-cooked cabbage leaves. A small can of sauerkraut is placed in the bottom of a kettle and the rolled meat in cabbage leaves is then put in.

A sauce of a half-pint of sour cream and a can of tomato soup is poured over the rolls and water is added to come to the top of the rolls. Cooking takes about two hours. Then broth is taken from the kettle to make a regular gravy with shortening and flour. The gravy is added to the kettle and final cooking takes about 15 minutes.

Some variations of the dish include leaving out the sour cream and adding vegetables, such as potatoes, Mrs. Susich said.

Sarma may be served with barbecued spare ribs, baked or fried potatoes or salad, she explained. Mrs. Susich is president of the Serbian Sisters of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church and has done much cooking for special affairs. She has eight children.

It's Yes Or No With Yogurt

AP Newsfeatures

It's centuries old. American families of Armenian, Syrian, Lebanese and Turkish origin have always used it. You meet it in Egypt and North Africa.

It may be called madzoon, laban or koumis. In this country it is usually named yogurt and in recent years has acquired quite a vogue.

If you try yogurt and like it, your enthusiasm will know no bounds. If you find it is not your dish of tea, you'll wonder why yogurt-eaters are so loyal to this food. Seems there's no half-way feeling about it.

Yogurt is milk inoculated with special cultures. It has a slightly tangy flavor and a custard-like consistency. Many people like yogurt best "as is," others enjoy it combined with other foods.

YOGURT ORANGE PIE

Ingredients: 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 2 egg yolks, ¼ cup milk, ½ pint plain yogurt, 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, 1 tablespoon honey, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon vanilla, coconut pie shell, orange sections.

Method: In top of double boiler, sprinkle gelatin over cold water to soften; stir over hot water to dissolve. Beat egg yolks lightly; blend with milk; add to gelatin. Cook and stir constantly over gently boiling water until mixture coats a silver spoon; cool.

Cream the cheese, honey, grated orange rind and vanilla; gradually mix in yogurt, keeping smooth. Slowly stir in the cooled gelatin mixture; mix well. Chill until thickened — about 20 minutes. Beat until creamy and smooth — about 5 minutes. Pour into pie shell; chill until firm. Before serving, garnish with orange sections.

Coconut Shell: Mix flaked coconut (from a 3½-ounce can) with 3 tablespoons melted butter; spread over bottom and sides of an 8-inch pie plate; make sides as thick as bottom. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes; cool before filling.

Tasty Italian Dish

Mrs. Dominick Carbone, 1225 Commerce St., Wellsville, enjoys making baked eggplant with hamburg for her family as an Italian dish.

For her ingredients, Mrs. Carbone uses a pound of ground beef, two medium-sized eggplants, a quart of tomatoes, two eggs, a small onion, half a cup of olive oil, 1½ cups of bread crumbs, flour and garlic.

She then cooks the hamburg and adds the onion and garlic for flavor and then allows the tomatoes to simmer before adding to the hamburg, cooking for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Carbone beats the eggs slightly, adds salt and pepper and dips the sliced eggplant into the batter and covers with flour before frying the eggplant in hot grease until brown.

Some of the hamburger and sauce is then placed in the bottom of a baking pan. The eggplant is arranged in a layer and sprinkled with bread crumbs. The layers then are alternated until the proper quantity is in the pan. Slices of green pepper are added to the top and the ingredients are baked in an oven for 45 minutes.

Defense Opens Case In Embezzlement Trial

Special Judge Ferd Bader Wednesday dismissed 15 of the 16 counts of the indictment against Friend, accused of embezzling $52,217 of county funds from Aug. 23, 1958 to Jan. 31, 1959.

These Spareribs Smart And Saucy

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Old-fashioned barbecue means split halves of a meat carcass stretched over trenches of coals, brought to a state of crisp brown tenderness and free from the least scorching. Then over the meat the deluge of dipney—as the sauce was called in some parts of the deep South, and may be to this day.

"Daddy made it thus: Two pounds sweet lard, melted in a brass kettle, with one pound beaten, not ground, black pepper, a pint of small fiery red peppers, nubbed and stewed soft in water to barely cover, a spoonful of herbs in powder — he would never tell what they were —and a quart and pint of the strongest apple vinegar, with a little salt. These were simmered together for half an hour, as the barbecue was getting done.

"Hot! After eating it one wanted to lie down at the spring-side and let the water of it flow down the mouth. But of a flavor, a savor, a tastiness, nothing else earthly approaches."

These days new - fashioned barbecue and dipney also have their devotees. A couple of racks of fresh pork spareribs may be stretched over the backyard grill; Daddy tends the fire, and he may still make the sauce. Or Mom does the honors and oven-roasts the ribs.

SPARERIBS FESTIVAL

Ingredients: 3 pounds fresh pork spareribs (cut in two - rib lengths), salt, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ¼ cup water, ¼ cup red wine veingar, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ¼ cup finely chopped onion (1 small), ¼ cup finely chopped celery (1 rib), 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges.

Method: Arrange spareribs in 1 layer in shallow roasting pan; sprinkle with salt. Roast in hot (450 degrees) oven 30 minutes, turning once. Remove from oven and drain off fat. Meanwhile put cornstarch in a small suacepan; gradually stir in water until smooth, then vinegar and soy sauce; add onion, celery and syrup drained from oranges.

Cook and stir over moderate heat until thickened and clear; pour over the spareribs after they are drained of fat. Return to moderate (350 degrees) oven until tender, 45 minutes to 1 hour; baste several times. If sauce becomes too thick stir in a little water at a time. About 10 minutes before ribs are ready, add oranges. Makes 4 servings.

Man's Body Recovered

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — The body of Eric Leslie Mason, 24, of Birkenhead, England, who had been missing since July 24, was recovered from Lake Erie five miles off Conneaut Harbor Wednesday. Mason was lost from the Canadian Steamship Co.'s Constand Bowater outside Fairport Harbor. Two commercial fishermen found the body and Coroner Clyde Roller ruled accidental drowning.

Convicted Of Robbery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Donald Allen Kiger of Richmond, Ind., was convicted Wednesday in U.S. District Court in the $27,138 robbery of a nearby Phillipsburg bank last Jan. 3. Sentencing was set for today. Kiger, 29, testified he was nowhere near the branch of the Winters National Bank & Trust Co. at the time of the robbery.

Ohio Airman Killed In Mishap On Carrier

Officials at Alameda Naval Air Station said the carrier's commander sent a brief report that James Bliss died of injuries suffered on the flight deck.

Fleet Air Headquarters said Bliss, an apprentice seaman, was sucked into the air intake of an F8U Crusader jet plane.

Bliss was a son of John William Bliss of Fremont.

1 Killed, 5 Injured

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Miss Maria Reyes, 38, of Cygnet, was killed and five persons were injured in a two-car crash near Deshler Wednesday. The victim was a passenger in the car of Carlos Sosa, also of Cygnet. Driver of the other car, Miguel Posada, 16, of Deshler, and four youths with him were taken to a Bowling Green hospital.

Washing with repeated latherings of a strong laundry soap is a recommended first - aid treatment for sufferers from poison ivy.

DiSalle Sticking To Waiting Game On Favorite Son

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is sticking to his waiting game even though seven county Democratic chairmen have endorsed him as Ohio's favorite son for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

"I appreciate their expression," he said Wednesday, "but this doesn't change my position as far as delaying a decision until late this year or early next year."

The seven chairmen from Muskingum, Perry, Washington, Monroe, Guernsey, Morgan and Noble counties make up Ohio's 15th Congressional District.

Mell G. Underwood Jr., head of the district group and the Perry County Democrats, announced the group's endorsement Wednesday.

"We recognize the importance of a solid delegation behind Gov. DiSalle," Underwood said. "Our unanimous endorsement of Gov. DiSalle is our answer to the Cleveland group which appears to be trying to divide our party."

Says Roads Not Good

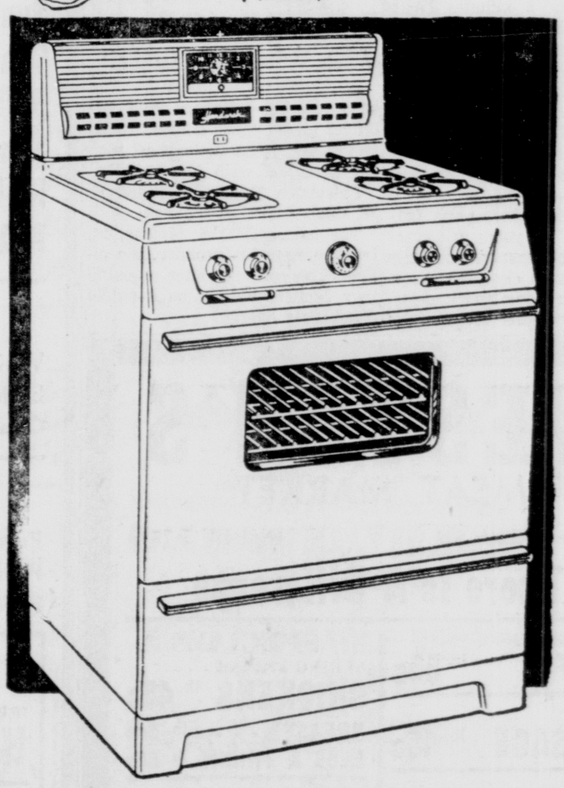

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's highway director says the state's Everett S. Preston, speaking to the Ohio Petroleum Marketeers Assn. here Wednesday, said that a survey of 15,952 miles of state roads so far has shown more than 6,208 miles have to be branded intolerable. "Most of the rest are far from perfect," he added.

Indicted For Murder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County grand jury Wednesday indicted George Albert Rand, 34, for first-degree murder in the torch slaying of Melvin E. Payne July 2. Rand is accused of fatally shooting and burning Payne, 35, an investigator for the Bureau of Unemployment compensation.

2 English Dishes

Two of the favorites of Mrs. Arthur Hollins, 916 St. Clair Ave., are steak and kidney pie for the main course and Christmas pudding for dessert.

For the steak and kidney pie, Mrs. Hollins uses 1½ pounds of lean rump steak and two beef kidneys. If beef kidneys aren't available, she substitutes lamb or pork.

The steak and kidneys then are cut into 1-inch pieces and placed in a sauce pan with three or four cups of cold water and an onion. It is brought to a boil and then allowed to simmer until tender, adding salt and pepper to taste.

She thickens the mixture with six tablespoons of flour and a fourth of a cup of cold water.

Mrs. Hollins' pie dough requires 2 cups of flour, 1 teaspoon of salt, 2-3 of a cup of shortening and 6 or 7 tablespoons of water.

After the pie dough is placed in an 8 or 9-inch pan, the onion is removed from the steak and kidneys and the meat placed in the pan and the remainder of the pie dough used to cover it.

She bakes it in the oven at 450 degrees until done. For those who desire a glaze on the pie dough, brush the pastry with a beaten egg yolk before placing it in the oven, Mrs. Hollins suggested.

The Christmas pudding recipe requires 1½ cups of flour, 1 teaspoon of baking powder, 2 cups of bread crumbs, 6 eggs, ½ pound of ground suet, cup of brown sugar, teaspoon of cinnamon, teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon of nutmeg, ¾ teaspoon of mace, ½ pound of currants, ½ pound of sultanas, pound of raisins, cup of chopped apples, 4 ounces of chopped apples, 4 ounces of chopped candied peel, 4 ounces of candied cherries, a cup of milk or grape juice and three tablespoons of rum or brandy.

Put the flour, spice, suet and bread crumbs in a bowl and stir in the sugar, nuts, fruit and lemon rind. Beat the eggs and stir them into the dry ingredients and add the rest of the liquid and then mix thoroughly.

Mrs. Hollins usually allows hers to sit overnight because a little more liquid sometimes is required.

Place in greased pudding pans, cover with greased paper and tie on cloths so no moisture can get in the pudding. Then steam for six hours.

4-H News

Miss Janice Allison was elected president of the Cherokee 4-H Club at a meeting Monday night in the Grandview School near Chester.

Others elected were Beverly Hulme, vice president; Patty Morris, secretary; Sue Adkins, corresponding secretary; Betty Allison, treasurer; Richard Reed, song leader; Diane Schladen, game leader, and Nikky Haught and Nancy Malone, historians.

Projects for the year were discussed by Mrs. William Schladen, leader. Enrollment cards were presented new members. A 4-H jacket was given to Cathy Lee Brown for attaining the highest score on her project at an exhibit in July.

Club members who completed projects this year will attend the Hancock County achievement banquet Monday in the Weirton Community Center.

The club will sell Christmas cards this year to obtain funds for sending members to 4-H camps. Twenty-three attended camp this year. The next meeting will be Oct. 19 in the school.

LISBON—Eleven county youths—six boys and five girls—attended the 14th annual 4-H Club Congress which ended Wednesday at Ohio State University at Columbus, according to Don Myers, county 4-H extension agent. They were accompanied by two advisors.

The five - day session started Saturday. The youths were selected by the county 4-H committee.

They were Ronald Wilhel of Leetonia R. D. 1, Wayne Herron of Salem R. D. 2, Tom Wallace of Homeworth, James Stewart of Salineville R. D. 1, Ray Moser of Columbiana R. D. 2, Robert Brubaker of Leetonia R. D. 2, Donna Denny of Salem R. D. 2, Judy Broadbent of East Liverpool R. D. 2, Joyce Morris and Lela Shade, both of Leetonia R. D. 1, and Jean Converse of Leetonia R. D. 2. Advisors are Mr. and Mrs. William Rymer of New Waterford.

Others named were Daniell Chapco, vice president; Janet Reed, secretary; Judy Pugh, song leader; Patty Highfield, recreation leader, and Mary Margaret Anderson, reporter.

Plans were made to attend a 4-H achievement banquet Monday at Weirton. Members selected projects for the year. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reed.

The next meeting will be Oct. 12.

Winter projects were discussed at a meeting of the Hilltoppers 4-H Club of Shadyside Ave. Monday night with Mrs. Mahala Pethtel, 901 Jennings Ave., president.

Enrolling new members was also discussed. Games were played and refreshments were served. "Current Events" will be the roll call for the meeting Sept. 28.

Saturday Dinner

TURKEY PUDDING

Ingredients: 1 cup turkey broth, 1 cup milk, 2 cups leftover bread stuffing from turkey, 2 cups diced cooked turkey meat, salt, pepper, 4 large eggs (separated).

Method: Heat broth and milk in a medium-sized saucepan; mix in bread stuffing, turkey, salt and pepper to taste. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; with fork, beat gently into stuffing mixture.

Cook and stir constantly over low heat for about 5 minutes. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff; fold into stuffing mixture. Turn into ungreased 1½-quart baking dish placed in a pan of very hot water. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven about 1¼ hours or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

On an average day, some 100,000,000 people (12 years and over) read a daily newspaper. The daily newspaper comes closer to reaching all of an advertiser's customers than any other ad medium.

Buffet Supper

ONION BREAD PIE

Ingredients: 1 package hot - roll mix, 1 cup thinly sliced onions, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon celery seed.

Method: Make hot-roll mix according to package directions. Meanwhile cook onions in butter until transparent but not brown; add half (1½ teaspoons) of the celery seed to onions and knead other half into dough. Divide dough into two parts; shape to fit two greased 8-inch pie plates. Spread onions over entire surface of dough. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve hot. Makes 12 servings.

Hired As Coroner, Wants To Abolish Job

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Frank Dionesopulos was appointed Milwaukee County coroner and he immediately announced his main objective: to have the office abolished.

Dionesopulos said the $50 a month coroner's post was unnecessary because the county examiners office performs the duties formerly carried out by the coroner.

Police Oblige Caller Who Winds Up In Jail

The caller, Charles Malone, 24, tried to keep his promise, the officers reported, but after a scuffle they brought him in on a public drunkeness charge.

Try German Dish

Mrs. Henry Schneidmiller Jr., 600 Marcus St., suggests one of her favorites — mauldeshen.

In her recipe, Mrs. Schneidmiller uses a pound of plate boil, a small onion, half a cup of diced celery and salt and pepper to make a meat broth.

She then makes noodle dough, rolls it and cuts the dough into 4-inch squares and places 3 tablespoons of the ground meat on each square. Pinch the top and ends of the squares together and drop into the meat broth, allowing to boil for 45 minutes.

Man Is Re-Elected But Twice As Unhappy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Abraham M. Ellis was introduced at the meeting of the Beth Jacobs School as the re-elected president.

"Mr. Ellis would have been unhappy if he had not been re-elected," Albert M. Lieberman told the meeting.

Said Ellis: "Yes. I would have been unhappy if I had not been elected again. But now that I am re-elected, I am twice as unhappy."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What is your opinion of a 15-year-old boy who kisses his father goodbye when he leaves the house?

I almost fell over dead when I witnessed this thing at the home of a friend. I commented later to my husband that this was a sure way to make the boy swishy. He said I was all wet. Am I?—IRMA.

Dear Irma: Sons kissing fathers is a matter of early training and it means no more than "hello" and "goodbye." Europeans have done this for centuries as a gesture of respect. It's a warm custom and nothing more.

Footloose Offspring

Dear Ann: Our only son married a nice girl two years ago. They recently decided to move to Florida. Last week they brought 20 cartons of personal belongings and set them on our basement floor.

They never asked if I had room—just left the stuff. Yesterday they came with another carload.

I said nicely, "Ralph we don't have room for anything else."

He replied, "I used to live here didn't I? You got along without my bedroom when I wasn't home. Put it in there."

Then he said, "I brought the two cats. Now don't tell me you won't take them."

I have a horrible fear of cats (which I know is childish) but I can't even touch a cat. I told him we couldn't take them because we both work and are gone all day. He said, "Just put papers down." With that they drove off—mad.

I cried for days and still don't know if we did the right thing to raise a fuss. Should we have taken everything with a smile? Maybe this is what parents are for.—LILLIAN.

Dear Lillian: This is NOT what parents are for—and the reason your son doesn't know better is because you never taught him.

Parents have an obligation to rear their children to be independent, self-respecting and to have respect for others—including their own parents.

You don't have to serve as a storage company, an animal shelter, or a catchall. Your son had no business bringing the cartons to your place without first asking.

You shouldn't have let him get away with it. You should have told him to take the cartons to a storage company and the cats to the humane society.

Sister-Brother Act

Dear Ann: You've heard of a mama's girl and a papa's girl—but have you ever heard of a brother's girl? Well, I married one and it's murder. If you can help me I'll send you a medal.

We've been married since October. My wife's brother Fritz is a bachelor so he's here almost every night for dinner. They don't even include me in their conversation. She cooks what HE likes. I have to eat everything seasoned to suit HIM.

She wanted to buy an expensive fur jacket which was beyond our means. I said no so she got the money from Fritz. I love her and don't want to split up. But I can't take much more of this. What can I do?—ROBBIE.

Dear Robbie: Too bad you didn't tape this brother-sister act before marriage. Now that you're in it you'll need the help of a third party to help grow the little girl up. A marriage counselor will spell out some rules, the first of which should be, "Live on your husband's income." And lots of luck—you'll need it.

Confidentially

TO REDGATE: Your sister has a barnwide persecution complex. She needs professional help.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

40 At County Meeting For Medical Society

Dr. John H. Holsaepsel of Ohio State University addressed 40 members of the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday night at their monthly meeting in the Wick Hotel at Lisbon.

Miss Meryl Esenwein of New Waterford was the winner in the Senior division, and Miss Sharon Kellison of Kensington R. D. 1 in the Junior Division.

Dr. C. S. Palmer of Lisbon, county health commissioner, gave a report on immunization. The next meeting will be Oct. 20 at the Wick Hotel.

Benson's Son, Mr. K's Son-In-Law Have Chat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The son of the secretary of agriculture and the son-in-law of the Soviet Premier had a pleasant chat on their way back from Beltsville, Md. The subject: the Mormon Church.

Reed Benson, son of Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, and Alexei Adzhubei, son-in-law of Nikita Khrushchev, happened to ride back to Washington in the same car Wednesday from a visit to the government agricultural station at Beltsville.

Secretary Benson is an elder of the Mormon Church, and his son has been a missionary.

Student Chokes During Fraternity Hazing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A University of Southern California student choked to death on a piece of raw meat during a predawn fraternity hazing today, police reported.

Dr. Melvin Goldy, summoned to the Kappa Sigma fraternity house, said he had to extract a thick piece of liver from the gullet of Richard Swanson, 21. Swanson was pronounced dead on arrival at Central Receiving Hospital.

Dr. Goldy said the meat was nearly 4 inches long and nearly an inch thick.

Police said the youth was being initiated along with 10 others.

Makes It Emphatic

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — A political decision has been made by Dist. Atty. Bill Caldwell. He told a group of Colorado legislators: "I wouldn't run for this job again for all the apples in China."

By LAURA WHEELER

Baby animals for baby hands. Use your fabric remnants — it takes so little to make these toys. Each is made of two pieces. Ears are separate.

Pattern 545: transfer pattern of four cuddle toys about 5 x 6 inches. Faces in easy stitchery.

Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to the East Liverpool Review, 45 Needlecraft Dept., P. O. Box 161, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address and the pattern number.

Cleveland Woman, 31, Shot In Chest, Dies

Police found Mrs. Gladys Jeffries slumped in the front seat of a parked car. A gun, which Lt. William Horrigan said had been fired, was found about 10 feet from the car. Horrigan ruled out the possibility of robbery since her purse and billfold were intact.

Pears Are A Tasty Dish

AP Newsfeatures

So obliging. Ready to pitch in at any hour of the day — breakfast, lunch, supper, snacktime. Here's a mealtime companion that's both refreshing and versatile.

If they are a green shade and quite firm when you bring them home from market, leave them in their wrapping in a cool room in the house. After they turn yellow and yield slightly to the touch, put them in the refrigerator so you can serve them chilled.

Pears make fine partners. Put together a sandwich of date-and-nut bread with a filling of mild soft cheddar cheese; pack it into the lunch box for dessert along with a cold ripe pear.

Ever discover how well the pear and orange suit each other? Pare, halve, seed and slice pears into orange juice; serve at breakfast time. Or turn that combination into a company - time compote for lunch or supper by adding fresh orange sections and slivers of syrup - preserved ginger.

Do your young children like finger food? Cut unpeeled pears into eighths and remove seeds; place on a paper plate. Just the right size for youngsters to pick up and nibble, and full of nutrients.

The pear is a fine companion for meat. Want to glorify that boneless pork shoulder butt? Insert whole cloves in it, roast it in the oven, baste with ginger ale; slice and center on a platter. Pare the pears, halve and seed. Beat some currant jelly with a little prepared mustard and spoon some into each pear cavity.

If the lamb chops or roast lamb are on the menu, change the pear garnish to green mint jelly and top with pine nuts.

Make your own using drained frozen raspberries or raspberry preserves and pastry dough. Or take the easy way and use the excellent puff - paste turnovers that now come frozen and need only to be baked. Because these frozen raspberry turnovers are large, they may be cut in half after baking and sprinkled with confectioners' sugar.

Bread Needs Good Care

For the life of it, bread deserves good treatment, the American Institute of Baking at Chicago points out. Bread is a perishable food and how it is stored affects its good eating qualities.

Wrapping and storage conditions are factors in maintaining freshness. Signs of staling are loss of flavor and aroma of fresh bread, an increase in firmness and crumbliness, and development of a harsh texture.

In the modern bakery, bread is scientifically wrapped in moisture-resistant material. This is the best procedure for maintaining freshness because it keeps the bread in an ideal, humid atmosphere. Wrapped bread or packaged rolls should be left in original wrappers when placed in storage units.

Bread or rolls which may be purchased unwrapped, can be kept satisfactorily if wrapped in moisture - vapor proof papers or, if placed in a moisture - resistant bag before storing. Exceptions are the hard - or crisp - crusted breads and rolls. These products are best when eaten fresh.

When serving bread or when making sandwiches, remove only as many slices as needed. Fold in excess wrapping material over the remaining bread to retani moisture and to exclude air - borne mold spores.

Refrigerator storage: bread may be stored in the refrigerator to retard mold growth, especially during hot weather, but the longer the refrigeration period, the firmer bread becomes. Refrigeration temperatures step up staling. Use of wrappers or special containers does not offset the affects of cool temperature on bread freshness.

Freezer storage: Bread should be stored in frozen food cabinets at 0 F., or lower. These temperatures keep the flavor, freshness, original moisture and aroma of bread intact if it is wrapped securely in moisture - vapor proof material beforehand. Bread, thawed or fresh, stales at the same rate under like storage conditions.

Fresh hard - or crisp-crusted breads or rolls should be wrapped loosely in kraft paper. To use, unwrap and thaw bread at room temperature. Heat, uncovered, in a hot oven for about five minutes and serve immediately. Freezing stale or partially stale bread will not restore its freshness.

Bread box storage: Properly wrapped bread may be stored satisfactorily at room temperature in a clean, dry ventilated storage unit, container or drawer. Increased ventilation of the unit should be allowed for during hot weather. Such units should be placed away from all heat-producing equipment, such as: Ranges, refrigeration units, radiators, water heaters, or clothes driers. Temperatures above 80 degrees F. foster mold growth.

All storage containers should be thoroughly washed, weekly. Baking soda dissolved in warm water is the preferred agent for odorless cleaning. The unit should be dried well, including all joinings and it should be free of crumbs. Any remaining moisture or crumbs may favor mold growth.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Special Diet Needed By Mothers-To-Be

It is a healthy sign that expectant mothers are eager to control their weight gains. Overweight young mothers ask if it is possible to reduce during this special period. Your dietitian discussed the subject with a leading obstetrician. He explained that while 18 to 20 pounds is the recommended amount to gain, this applies only to the woman who is normal weight at the start of her pregnancy.

Ida Jean Kain

Our authority pointed out that during the initial visit of the expectant mother to her doctor, ideal weight for her height and build is calculated and 18 to 20 pounds is added to this figure. For the underweight, the gain should be greater than 20 pounds. The woman who is 10 pounds overweight at the start should be encouraged to restrict her total gain to 14 pounds.

WHEN AN expectant mother is excessively overweight, the obstetrician advises her to reduce rather than to permit any weight gain. He reported on one resolute mother-to-be who weighed 239 at the start of her pregnancy. During the nine month period, she reduced so that she weighed 180 pounds after her 8½ pound baby arrived.

"You should see the mangled condition of my old calorie chart you sent me. It has really seen hard use. A total of seven women have used it for pregnancy calorie-counting with a net result of 13 babies and weight control for the mothers."

Pregnancy is a period of growth, therefore the nutrients which promote growth should be increased during this time. The mother-to-be needs extra protein, calcium vitamins. These nutrients are furnished in milk, lean meat, fish and chicken, cottage cheese, eggs, green and yellow vegetables, fruits (including citrus), and whole grains.

For the expectant mother whose weight is normal at the start, after the third month a gain of one-half pound to three-quarters of a pound a week is normal. If the scales show a gain of a pound or more during this middle period, right then is the time to cut calories in fats, sugars and starches.

One excellent way to cut calories is to have skim milk or buttermilk instead of whole milk. A multiple vitamin capsule should be taken daily throughout the pregnancy and nursing period.

A reducing diet for the expectant mother should furnish a minimum of 1,200 calories a day, all in the protective foods. Enough calories must be furnished to allow the protein in the diet to be used for the building of new tissue, rather than being burned for energy purposes.

TO COUNTERACT the tendency to fluid retention, salt should be cut to a minimum. In this connection, our authority also recommended that baked goods which contain baking soda and baking powder should be carefully restricted.

The overweight expectant mother should always seek help from her own doctor.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Total expenditure for advertising in the U. S. last year passed $10,000,000,000. Approximately one-third of this amount — $3,192,800,000 — was placed in daily newspapers.

Youthpower Project Set

WASHINGTON — Twenty - two states already have joined in the 1959-60 Youthpower Project sponsored by the National Food Conference, according to the conference general chairman, Charles B. Shuman.

Several more are expected to announce their participation in the near future.

Shuman, who is president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the following states are now actively organizing the State Youthpower Committees which will be responsible for specific programs within the states: Alabama, California, Idaho, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont and Wisconsin.

The National Food Conference, an informal committee of trade associations and firms in the food industry, is backing a public education program on nutrition, health and fitness. Its 1959-60 Youthpower Project is a nationwide program of nutrition education for high school age boys and girls.

To be carried out to a large extent in cooperation with the nation's secondary school educators, the 1959-60 Youthpower Project calls for project activity by teenagers beginning this month.

This phase of the Youthpower Project will be followed by State Youthpower Congresses in all participating states and by a National Youthpower Congress at the Palmer House in Chicago next Feb. 11-13.

Panhandlers' Pitch Made To Wrong Man
